The fishermen in the boat and the pelican soaring above the water were both seeking fish during the lull in the storms over Marin today.

The fleecy clouds are expected to turn to water laden gray ones tonight and tomorrow when the Weather Bureau predicts an 80 per cent chance of rain. Independent-Journal photographer Bob Hax took the photo this morning from the tip of Belvedere Island as sun started to dry rain drenched hills on both sides of the Golden Gate Bridge.

Hanoi Is Said Raising Ante In Viet Peace

Hardliners Are In Control; No Negotiation In Sight

LONDON (UPI) — Ranking Communist diplomats said today the Hanoi regime of President Ho Chi Minh has raised the price for ending the Vietnam war.

North Vietnam does not want to negotiate any compromise settlement. It aims at "American defeat" by either political or military means or a combination of both, they said.

The diplomats said hardliners in Hanoi are in full control, with all moderating influences silenced. The regime is taking a steadily toughening stand.

Diplomats well acquainted with Hanoi's policy said that in present circumstances there is not the slightest chance for a negotiated settlement because North Vietnam has no intention of going to the conference table.

Hanoi's toughness was said to be such as to discourage even its own allies and supporters from trying to counsel peace through negotiation.

Under these circumstances, it appeared highly doubtful that Hanoi would open negotiations even in the event the United States ordered a pause in the bombing of North Vietnam, the diplomats indicated.

Neither Russia nor any of the East European governments could now convince Ho's regime into peace talks should the American bombing stop.

Hanoi appears to be reckoning on the mounting pressure of world opinion on the Americans, on opposition to the Vietnam war within the United States and on the uncertainties generated by the forthcoming U.S. presidential election.

Hanoi also seems for undisclosed reasons to be more optimistic about its military prospects.

Coinciding with these indications from diplomatic sources, the Communist Chinese Foreign Ministry in Peking said in a statement dated Nov. 29 and released by its mission in London that the present situation was "excellent in the Vietnamese people's war against U.S. aggression and for national salvation."

Pastor's Daughter In Marijuana Raid

Shelley Croughan, 18-year-old daughter of the pastor of the Novato Presbyterian Church, and five other young people were arrested in a pre-dawn marijuana raid at her apartment early yesterday.

Rev. Claire M. Croughan said his daughter took the apartment at 1506 Vallejo Street last July after graduating from Novato High School. She works as a bookkeeper in San Francisco.

Rev. Croughan said his daughter — booked on charges of suspicion of possession of narcotic paraphernalia, possession of marijuana and maintaining a place where narcotics are used — seemed to be "in good spirits" when he talked to her.

She remained in jail on $625 bail. "We've talked to her and tried to help her realize that she is responsible for what she did," he said. The girl was scheduled for a hearing this afternoon in municipal court.

Novato officers, who were admitted on request, made the raid at the Vallejo street apartment shortly after 5 a.m. Sunday.

There, police said, they found vegetable matter that appeared to be marijuana in a cigarette

Major Defeat Against Reds

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. troops and South Vietnamese marines operating in the Mekong Delta from Civil War-type gunboats today smashed a Viet Cong attempt to cut Saigon's main food supply line and inflicted a major defeat on Red forces.

A U.S. military spokesman said the Viet Cong had suffered at least 199 killed in a battle that still raged at sundown. American and South Vietnamese casualties were not announced pending outcome of the battle, but U.S. losses were two dead and several wounded in the early stages.

The spokesman said the battle was showing up as a major defeat for the Viet Cong who hold numerous strongholds in the water logged Delta barely 60 miles south of Saigon but who cannot cope with the armor-plated, air-conditioned gunboats.

In other action, guerrillas struck America's largest war base at Long Binh, igniting huge fires that lighted up Saigon's northern horizon and ate into piles of building material

CAMPUS BULGE

Prescription Costly For College Growth

By FRANK FARRARA
(First of five articles)

Marin Junior College District, suffering from campus bulge, now has a prescription that would cost $27 million plus over a 12-year period.

The district stands today with a crowded, land-locked campus at Kentfield, a 333-acre vacant campus near Novato and a master plan involving both.

The plan by Management and Economics Research Inc. (MERI) of Palo Alto covers both ultimate development of the Kentfield campus and initial development of the north campus.

It made no recommendations on how to finance the facilities, leaving that dilemma up to the district board.

When the Kentfield campus approaches an enrollment of 5,000, "the district should explore the possibility of acquiring federal land in the south county area for a future campus," the firm advised, looking beyond the 12-year planning period.

There are two approaches to implement the MERI plan, one estimated to cost $27,448,458, and the other, $27,216,019, with the main difference the timing of construction at the Kentfield campus and the use of portables.

Under either approach there would be a major revamping of the Kentfield campus, with traditional buildings such as Harlan Hall and the Austin Science building demolished, the football field relocated and College Avenue transformed into a service street, rather than a major road.

There would be a new science building, a new library, new administration building, new medical science and classroom building and eventually a planetarium.

MERI's plan also calls for construction of new academic

Thant Peace Proposal Is Accepted

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — President Makarios of Cyprus welcomed Secretary-General U Thant's peace proposals for his strife-torn island today and called for the complete withdrawal "of all non-Cypriot armed forces other than those of the United Nations."

Makarios also called for "effective guarantees against any military intervention in the affairs of Cyprus." This, he said, "is a demanding necessity for peace."

The Cyprus reply to Thant's appeal came a day after Greece and Turkey had accepted the proposals. In a preliminary replay last night, Cyprus had said Thant's program was "particularly constructive."

Immortalized Role Of Cowardly Lion

NEW YORK (UPI) — Comedian Bert Lahr, who clownned his way into the hearts of three generations, died early today of a massive intestinal hemorrhage at Columbia-Presbyterian Hospital at the age of 72.

The actor with the expression of eternal surprise and disdain on his pretty-nosed face was filming a new movie, "The Night They Raided Minsky's," when he was stricken by a back ailment and entered the hospital Nov. 22. He subsequently fought off an attack of pneumonia, but it weakened him and his condition deteriorated during the weekend.

Lahr bounced into show business in 1910 when he was 15.

He hit the bigtime in 1923 in the character of an incompetent red-nosed cop starred in a burlesque company that toured the nation. In 1928 he appeared on the Broadway stage to begin a second phase of his career, playing a punchy fighter opposite Victor Moore in "Hold Everything."

If anyone in America had not heard of Bert Lahr by 1939, he was sure to meet him as the cowardly lion in "The Wizard of Oz," a film which bestowed movie immortality on the master of lunacy and later provided him with a new audience via television.

The stage was richer for Lahr's loyalty. He chased Ethel Merman as a ludicrously lecherous Louis XV in "Dubarry Was A Lady," played a sloppily amorous troubadour in "Seven Lively Arts" opposite Bea Lillie. In "Two on the Aisle" he had his audiences in the aisle with his uproariously irreverent portrayal of Queen Victoria as a prissy tipster.

But Lahr, a worry-wart hypochondriac in private life, could play it straight. He left his fans wet-eyed playing the role of Skid in a revival of "Burlesque" in 1957 and was the dream-racked but indomitable hobo in Samuel Beckett's "Waiting for Godot." See LAHR, page 4

Youth Held In Slaying Of Hub Boy

I-J Special Report

BATON ROUGE, LA. — A local youth, 21-year-old Kit Armen Hayden, was arrested as he stepped off a bus here yesterday in the Florida murders of James Stephen Moore, 18, of San Anselmo, and Daniel Scholtz, 18, of Solsberry, Ind.

The bodies of Moore and Scholtz, both shot in the head, were found in a ditch near Daytona Beach last Wednesday morning. The bodies had been stripped of money and identification and they were not identified until Friday.

Hayden will be returned to Florida on a murder warrant. A murder warrant also has been issued for Norman Grant Garrett, 26, still missing, along with a blue-green station wagon that belonged to Scholtz's father.

Sheriff P. A. Edmonson of Flagler County, Fla., said helicopters and planes have been searching a four-county area around Daytona Beach in the hunt for the car.

The San Anselmo boy had been working on a charter sailboat in the Virgin Islands. He finished the job and flew to Florida, where he apparently teamed up with Scholtz.

The dead boys were seen in the station wagon at Cape Kennedy, in company with two bearded young men and a German Shepherd dog, a few hours before they were killed. The Cape is 75 miles south of the spot where the bodies were found.

A member of the Moore family said funeral arrangements for James have not yet been completed, but the services will probably be held here Wednesday, for members of the family and close friends. Keaton's Mortuary is handling the arrangements.

'SILLIEST DISPUTE'

Rails Slowdown Strikes Britain

LONDON (AP) — Britain's lagging economy was threatened again today by another labor dispute, a railroad slowdown which Labor Minister Ray Gunter called "the silliest dispute of the decade."

The nation's 36,500 locomotive drivers began working by the book, observing strictly every point in their 241-page rule book including lengthy inspections of all equipment before moving.

Scores of freight and passenger trains were canceled. The engineer of a milk train refused to move, and 20,000 gallons had to be siphoned into trucks. The state railway said up to 25 per cent of all passenger services might be canceled.

Roads into London were jammed even more than usual by traffic 50 per cent above normal. Automobile associations organized car pools and commuter pickup points.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson called his Cabinet to assess the effects of the strike and possibly to declare an emergency, mobilizing all available transport to take over the load from stalled trains.

Army trucks may be used to haul essential goods and Royal Air Force planes to fly the mail.

The engineers claim that train guards, who are members of the rival National Union of Railwaymen, should not be allowed to ride in the empty cabs at the rear of locomotives. The Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen said the guards belong in cabooses which were discontinued at midnight to save $600,000 a year.

Said Gunter in a television appeal for an end to the slowdown: "Unless we as a country can come to terms with the technological changes and escape from past habits and attitudes, there is no hope."

Cardinal Spellman Lies In State In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Dressed in the white, red and gold splendor of a Prince of the Roman Catholic Church, the body of Francis Cardinal Spellman lay in state in St. Patrick's Cathedral today.

Thousands of mourners filed by the catafalque, placed in the center aisle, after a solemn High Mass of requiem sung last night by Archbishop John F. Maguire and nine concelebrants. Archbishop Maguire has been named administrator of the archdiocese by Pope Paul VI to serve until a successor is named.

The great bronze doors of the cathedral remained open throughout the night and early morning hours for mourners wishing to view the body.

STAND GUARD

Four New York City firemen and policemen stood guard over the coffin of African mahogany lined with bronze which will remain in place until funeral services Thursday for the cardinal, who died Saturday of a stroke at the age of 78.

All seven surviving American cardinals have been invited to the Thursday services.

The six cardinals currently in the United States have indicated they will attend, but whether Francis Cardinal Brennan, head of the Vatican's Sacred Rota, would return from Rome was not known.

As mourners filled the cathedral and messages of condolence poured into the chancery—including those from the Pope and President Johnson—speculation began on who would succeed Spellman.

NOMINATING SYSTEM

Although the selection of a successor is finally made by the Pope, this will be the first major American church appointment under a new nominating system set up to give American bishops more say in the choosing.

First, the bishops of each of the country's 28 provinces will meet with their governing archbishop and agree on a list of names.

These will be given to a new committee of seven bishops from different areas of the country, named last spring, to draw up a consensus of local nominations. This was formerly done by the apostolic delegate in Washington.

These names will be forwarded to the Pope who will thus have a chance to get clear evidence of the bishops' feelings.

Folksinger's Condition Improved

GLENDAL (AP) — Folksinger Jimmie Rodgers was reported well enough to make telephone calls from his hospital bed today, although his manager said he is still "in very serious condition."

"He insists on making telephone calls to friends and they are letting him do it rather than get all worked up over it," said Seymour Heller, Rodgers' manager.

Hospital officials refused to comment on Rodgers' condition.

Heller said the 33-year-old singer could be hospitalized "anywhere from a week or two to a couple of months."

Rodgers was found unconscious and beaten along a freeway early Friday. He suffered a skull fracture. He had apparently been attacked with a blunt instrument during a robbery attempt, according to his physician, Dr. William L. Donham.

Gas Scare

OPELIKA, Ala. (AP) — About 500 persons who evacuated this East Alabama community were back in their homes today after being threatened by 6,000 gallons of propane gas which escaped from a tanker truck when the vehicle crashed.

The truck, which skidded off a railroad span and plunged 50 to 75 feet, was lifted by a railroad crane and taken out of the city yesterday on a flatbed rail car.

First Lady Wears A Borrowed Mink

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson arrived at a reception yesterday for her daughter Lynda and future son-in-law, Marine Capt. Charles Robb, wearing a white mink coat.

It appeared to be a new acquisition, and reporters questioned Press Secretary Liz Carpenter. "She's just using this coat while having her own (a light tan mink) shortened," Mrs. Carpenter explained.

27 Hurt In Wild Ride On Cable Car

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — With passengers screaming in terror, a cable car ran wild down one of San Francisco's steepest hills last night, ramming a car which exploded into flames and crashed into nine others.

Ambulances took 27 persons, most of them from the cable car, to hospitals with burns and bruises. Critically burned was James Van Baalen, 30, of San Francisco.

The six-ton Hyde Street cable car, nearing the end of its two-mile run from Powell and Market streets in a heavy downpour, rolled onto the steep grade and went forward out of control on rain-slick tracks.

According to passengers, the cable car careened for a block and a half down Hyde. Some passengers jumped off. At Bay Street the car rammed an auto which bounced off others as its gas tank ruptured.

"A big sheet of flame hit the cable car," said Jim Kosek, 22, of Clarendon Hills, Ill. Kosek, just returned from serving in Vietnam, said the cable car seemed to have "lost its brakes."

Several persons were injured in the autos that were hit after the initial impact.

The cable car continued for another block and stopped at North Point Street, its front windshield and the ancient woodwork on the right side smashed. But the steelwork in front appeared intact.

Two Forgery Suspects Chased Across Bridge

Sausalito police arrested two forgery suspects along the Park Presidio in San Francisco Saturday after trailing them across Golden Gate Bridge.

After an alarm from the Stop and Go Market on Second Street, near Valley Street, Officer Brian Newlon patrolling at the Sausalito lateral saw the suspects' car and gave chase, but not at high speeds, police reported.

Sgt. Robert Malkin and Officer Michael Kielman in separate patrol cars joined Newlon, and the three arrested the suspects, who didn't resist, police reported.

Carl Williams, 40, of the Hotel Fillmore, San Francisco, was arrested on suspicion of forgery, and booked at Marin County Jail under $2,500 bail. He also was being held for the San Francisco Police Department.

Kenneth Ray Williams, 34, of 6025 Herzog Street, Oakland, was arrested on suspicion of forgery and possession of drug injection

$67 Million In Pay Hikes For State Employees Asked

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Annual report of the state Personnel Board today recommended a $67,210,000 increase in salaries for state employees in 1968.

The increases would be made, the report said, through appropriation of $31,700,000 from special funds and $35,515,000 from the general fund of the state.

The board reported to Gov. Ronald Reagan, who, if he accepts the recommendations, would include the increases in the 1968-69 state budget, which will be presented to the legislature after it convenes in January.

The rate of private industry salary increases "has clearly accelerated," the report says.

Surveys by the board indicate industry salary levels have increased 2.8 percent from March to October, and that the annual rate has changed from 3-4 percent two years ago to 5-6 percent currently.

Appropriations recommended by the board would permit 5 percent increases for the state civil service employees beginning in July 1968.

"These recommended increases," the board said, "are necessary to place state salaries in line with salaries paid for similar jobs in private industry and other public jurisdictions."

The board also recommended that time and a half for overtime and night shift differentials be provided for state employees; that unemployment insurance be extended to cover laid-off employees under certain circumstances, and that the state contribution to basic health plans be increased to cover the entire cost of the plan to each employee.

Police also reported they found what appeared to be a marijuana cigarette in the coat pocket of David L. Katlarz, 18, of 767 Clausen Avenue, Novato.

Katlarz was booked at Marin County jail on suspicion of possession of marijuana and being in a place where marijuana was used. He was released on $625 bail and scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Arrested on suspicion of being in a place where marijuana was used were:

Sandra Christine Hanson, 18, of 537 Idylberry Road, Marinwood, who was released under $315 bail, and scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. Wednesday;

Richard Michael Benbrood, 19, Petaluma, who was released under $315 bail and scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Craig Allen Morse, 19, of 1138 Ferris Drive, Novato who was held in lieu of $315 bail at Marin County jail.

Officers said that Wayne Steven Hainer, 20, of Petaluma reportedly en route to Vietnam with the army, was taken to Hamilton Air Force Base and turned over to security police.

Police said they entered the apartment after noting that the curtains were drawn and candles were burning inside.

They had received a tip that all-night marijuana parties were occurring at the apartment between midnight and 6 a.m. "almost every weekend," police said.

Sgt. William Cann reported that while on patrol for the past three weeks he had noted an unusual amount of foot traffic and vehicle traffic at the apartment "and people entering and leaving apartment 10."

Police said they entered after hearing an occupant say, "This stuff is groovy."

Participating in the arrests were Police Chief Robert DiGrazia, Sgt. O. C. Hainings, Officer R. C. Schanaker and Sergeant Cann.

HISTORIC SURGERY
First Heart Transplant Patient Able To Talk

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — A South African man with the transplanted heart of a 25-year-old girl pumping his blood announced today: "I am feeling much better."

Louis Washkansky, 55, a Lithuanian-born businessman, was able to speak 33 hours after a medical break-through operation. The tubes to a respirator were removed from his throat, permitting him to speak his first words since yesterday's surgery.

But he remained in a critical period at what Groote Schuur Hospital called the world's first human heart transplant.

Heart specialists around the world were waiting to see if Washkansky's body would accept or reject the heart of Denise Ann Darvall, an accounting machine operator killed in a car crash.

"The longer Washkansky goes on, the better," said Dr. Jacobus G. Burger, medical supervisor of the hospital, "although that does not mean the heart will not be rejected later. The body could decide in 5 or 10 years' time that it doesn't want this heart."

Washkansky had a tracheotomy—a breathing tube inserted in his throat—and could not

Illegal Gun Prison Term

Thomas Norton, 25, of Muir Beach, was sentenced to one to five years in state prison by Marin Superior Judge Thomas F. Keating today for illegal possession of a sawed-off shotgun.

Norton is scheduled for trial Dec. 12 for assault with the shotgun on Sheriff's Deputy Ronald Spurrell in Tamalpais Valley June 23, and with having marijuana when he was arrested.

A jury convicted him Oct. 25 of possessing the shotgun, but failed to agree on the other two charges, to which Norton pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity.

Session Canceled

HOW TO KEEP WELL
By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Deformities Of Breastbone Usually Develop Before Birth

Deformities of the breastbone (sternum) usually develop before birth. They may be hereditary; or represent nature's poor workmanship. Some babies are born without a sternum or an incomplete breastbone with an opening down the center. The heart may protrude from the front of the chest when there is no solid bony support in this area.

Infants also are born without certain ribs or cartilages that connect the ribs with the sternum. A partial absence of the upper ribs on one side is the most common deformity of this type.

These youngsters also lack the pectoral muscle and breast on the same side. According to Dr. Mark M. Ravitch of the University of Chicago, these defects should be corrected surgically because they become accentuated with the passage of time.

DEPRESSION OF THE breastbone (pectus excavatum) is one of the most common chest deformities. The concavity varies in depth and may reach the vertebrae in the back. In most instances, the depression is in the lower part of the sternum and creates a problem when it presses upon or displaces the heart.

It may be noted at birth but can be missed until the infant is a few months old. As the child grows, the front of the chest flattens, the shoulders become rounded, and the head is thrust forward. Some develop a potbelly.

This condition seldom causes symptoms during infancy. According to Dr. Ravitch, mothers report that the tyke is more vigorous, energetic, and eats better than her other offspring.

Older children are handicapped slightly, in that they cannot tolerate severe physical stress without tiring or becoming short of breath. Occasionally pressure on the heart induces serious cardiac incapacity.

Plastic surgery not only relieves distress but corrects the cosmetic defect.

Protrusion deformities (pigeon or chicken breast) are just the opposite. The sternum is broad and the center may stick out like the keel of a ship. Surgical correction is feasible if needed.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

KISSING ANIMALS
T. R. B. writes: I am 11 years old and am writing you concerning my grandma. I have a little cat which she hates. When I kiss it she has a fit. She has been a registered nurse for 40 years. Is grandma right?

REPLY
Your grandmother and I come from the same school of thought. We have esthetic reasons for not kissing animals even though the habit may never cause disease, including cat scratch fever.

Driver Cuts Face In Minor Accident

Therese McGraw Grant, 32, of 100 Elinor Avenue, Mill Valley, was treated at Marin General Hospital Friday night for facial cuts received when her car veered across East Blithedale Avenue, into a yard and hit the front steps at 404 East Blithedale Avenue, residence of Mrs. Cecilia Colapietro.

Mrs. Grant told police she blacked out before the accident at 9:15 p.m. Witnesses said the car first veered right onto the sidewalk, then back across the street and into the steps.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids
And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N. Y. (Special): A scientific research institute has discovered a medication which has the ability in most cases to actually shrink hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from the itching, burning and pain. Then this medication starts right in to gently reduce the swelling of inflamed, irritated hemorrhoids.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so.

And it was all accomplished without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H—an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! In addition to actually shrinking piles and relieving the painful distress—Preparation H lubricates, makes bowel movements less painful and soothes the irritated tissues. It also helps prevent further infection.

Preparation H comes in ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

OBITUARIES
James H. Frickie Dies At 70

James H. Frickie of 276 Cascade Drive, Mill Valley, a marine surveyor, died Saturday at a local hospital after a short illness. He was 70.

Frickie had been at sea for 27 years and served as a marine engineer before settling in Marin 23 years ago.

He had been commissioned by Italian and Japanese shipping bureaus as their local surveyor.

A native of Plaquemine, La., he went to sea at an early age and once served aboard the Wapama, a schooner now docked at the San Francisco Maritime State Historic Park. During World War II he served in the Navy.

He was a member of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers, the San Francisco Port Engineers Society, Mariners Club of San Francisco, and Crockett Lodge existentialist play, "Waiting for Godot" in 1956. Herbert Berghof, who directed "Godot," said Lahr did "everything against the rules, but it comes out."

Lahr's last play was "Foxy" a Klondike romp, in the 1964 season. In 1966 he took a crack at one of the stage's oldest comic roles at the Ypsilanti (Mich.) Greek Theater, playing the bawdy lead in Aristophanes "The Birds" with just the right touch of insouciant madness. Always a "clean comic", Lahr insisted on toning down some of the naughtier lines in the 2350-year-old play.

Many critics ranked Lahr and Charlie Chaplin as the outstanding comedians of their time, but Lahr's spectrum was richer for his vocal equipment which emitted sounds ranging from bleats and brays to hisses and bellows. His appeal was as much vocal as visual and no master of fractured French could quite say "Jenny-say-kwah" with Lahr's flourish.

Youth who never enjoyed Lahr on stage or screen were familiar with him as a compulsive gourmand in a current television commercial for potato chips.

Young Inventor Gets Citation

The misplaced ingenuity of a 16-year-old boy resulted in San Rafael police issuing him a citation Saturday.

He apparently spent days designing and fashioning a four-foot long stick with a finger-type grabber on the end.

The youth used it to reach inside the mail box of the Music Box Record Store in Northgate Shopping Center and deftly lift records from the racks. Once they were on the floor, he reached in and slid them out under the door.

He is survived by his wife, Catherine L. Frickie.
Burial was private.

It's true that other $5000 sedans are longer, lower, more ornate. It's true too that the Mercedes-Benz 230S knocks the spots off them all in road-holding, cornering, braking—the things that count.

If you think a car should be an efficient machine and not a dreamboat, keep reading. The 230S is just what you've been searching for.

Mercedes-Benz engineers refuse to scrap models every year for the sake of "planned obsolescence."

This gains them one precious thing—time. Time to develop and refine and perfect the cars they build, to bring them up to the very peak of efficiency.

The Mercedes-Benz 230S is a case in point. First produced 8 years ago and known as the 220, it has undergone major changes of a technical kind many times—while its looks remain identical with that original model. Result: the 230S stands as one of the best-engineered, most reliable automobiles you can buy.

Ugly roads our specialty

"While other makers sit around dreaming up new styling gimmicks, Mercedes-Benz engineers are out bashing over some awful road somewhere, learning things," said an automotive journalist recently.

One thing the engineers learned: that a fully independent, rear swing-axle suspension system utterly outperforms the familiar solid rear-axle type. You can pound your 230S over brutal back roads without being bounced off your seat. And you can corner on hairpin curves without feeling your heart in your throat.

This 1½-ton sedan clings to even wet or rough roads like a pedigreed sports car. Like a sports car, the 230S carries heavy-duty coil springs and shock absorbers, front anti-sway bar and 4-ply, high-speed tires as standard equipment.

Engine designed for racing

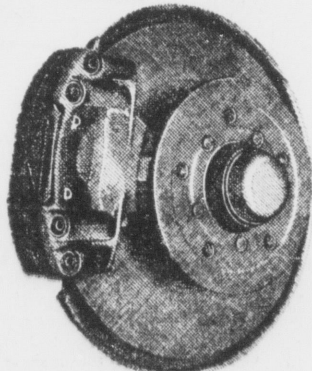

Loading along a turnpike at normal cruising speed, the 230S sounds and feels as quiet and civilized as any other $5000 sedan.

Yet few other $5000 sedans can boast an engine first designed to meet the brutal stress of racing—and still built up to near racing-engine tolerances. (Bearings are machined to .019 of a millimeter, and each new 230S engine is individually bench-tested before installation in the car.)

Even at maximum speed, the performance of the 230S is marked by an unflappable calm. Vibration is almost eerily absent. If you could see the car stripped down to the chassis, you'd see one reason why: the engine and front suspension are mounted on an ingenious removable sub-frame that is bedded in rubber where it joins the chassis. The rubber squelches tremors and judders before they ever reach you. Another vibration-killer—the steering system has its very own built-in shock absorber.

You'll never outrun your brakes

Mercedes-Benz engineers gave the 230S braking power to master emergencies, not just normal deceleration.

The 230S stops with the sureness of front disc brakes.

Press the pedal and you're drawn down to smooth, straight stops, even from 80 mph. The key: power-assisted front disc brakes that don't fade and lose effectiveness in repeated braking. Big, turbo-cooled drum brakes are fitted at the rear.

And dual-circuit brake lines remove the threat of total brake failure.

Extra reassurance: That sturdy, self-adjusting 230S steering system lets you keep precise control of the car when sudden, sharp moves must be made. You feel like you're in direct contact with the road—not floating vaguely over it.

Will it last?

If you think trading cars every two or three years is absurd, you're in tune with the engineers at Mercedes-Benz. They design and build their cars to be kept.

Heavy-gauge sheet steel up to one millimeter thick is selected for body panels on the 230S. The reinforced frame floor measures 2.3 millimeters thick. Rather than bolt the body to the chassis and risk rattles, Mercedes-Benz welds them into a single "unit" structure. It can't creek or rattle. And it doesn't flex over potholed roads.

Fifty pounds of the 230S' total weight comes from rust protection: 26 pounds of permanent undercoating, and 24 pounds of primer. Hidden pockets and channels in the bodywork are smeared with zinc before assembly; your 230S won't start to rot from within in a year or two.

The tale of the tape measure

Check the dimensions of your 230S against other $5000 cars. It's a revelation; this compact machine—a full 2 feet shorter than its rivals—furnishes you and four passengers with more knee, hip, shoulder and headroom than many "luxury" cars.

The 230S simply leaves the others behind in physical comfort. For example, seat springs are actually tuned to the car's suspension motions, to quell fatiguing minor vibrations.

A word on safety

Mercedes-Benz has received widespread publicity about its safety engineering achievements over the past several years.

Work continues to make Mercedes-Benz cars even safer, both in avoiding trouble, and, in protecting you if trouble should occur. For sane drivers, Mercedes-Benz cars can help reduce the hazards of driving—without dulling its pleasures.

Mercedes-Benz motor cars: from $25,785* to $4,189*

You may be able to afford a Mercedes-Benz without knowing it. Below are suggested retail prices* for 7 of the 15 Mercedes-Benz models:

600 Grand Mercedes	$25,785
300SE Coupe	11,916
250SL Roadster	6,568
250S Sedan	5,861
230 Sedan	4,386
200 Diesel Sedan	4,418
200 Sedan	4,189

*West Coast port of entry, exclusive of transportation charges, options, state and local taxes if any.

But however well engineered it may be, no car can entirely defend against the show-off, the drunkard, or the neurotic bent on self-destruction. Safety depends on you, too.

and administrative buildings in the portion of the campus bounded by Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, College Avenue, Stadium Way, Kent Avenue and Laurel Avenue. The intent "is to limit further segmentation of campus facilities," the firm reported.

The proposed building program would bring the Kentfield campus to an enrollment capacity of 5,000 and provide a north campus, with a capacity for 2,572 students.

The firm recommended the second approach to the program, known as "Plan B" which it said will hasten the completion of a new library and administration center and remodeling of the old library.

It also would require portable building to house several departments, but these portables could be used again at the north campus.

The timetable under this plan, including dates for start of construction and estimated costs at the Kentfield campus is:

1965—Remodeling, and improvements, $555,000, portable buildings, $202,500.

1969—New science building,

Tot Is Killed
By Loaded Gun

CHICO (AP) — A 2-year-old boy was playing with a loaded gun last night when the pistol discharged and fatally wounded him in the head, sheriff's deputies reported.

The victim was Gordon Robert Herring, son of Mrs. Lori Martin of Chico. The accident happened at the home of the boy's grandparents.

Sheriff's Sgt. Ray Baxter said the boy's uncle, Roy Sager Jr., was putting away guns and ammunition for the winter. The deputy said Sager left the guns in the house while he went out to the garage, and when he was gone, the child picked up a .38 caliber revolver and fired it.

BECOMES A MONK — Stephen J. Schlafer of Springfield, N.J., (left), a Jew for his 25 years, pledges himself to a life of celibacy and becomes a Buddhist monk. The ceremony took place yesterday at Gia Dinh, South Vietnam, (AP Wirephoto via radio from Saigon)

A Young New Jersey Jew Takes Buddhist Monk Vows

GIA DINH, Vietnam (AP) — A young New Jersey Jew who came to Vietnam with the U.S. Army is staying on as a Buddhist monk.

Stephen J. Schlafer, 25, went through a Buddhist ceremony in a pagoda just outside Saigon yesterday and emerged as a monk with the new name of Thich Venerable Thien Hien.

His mother, Mrs. Pat Schlafer, said in Springfield, N.J., her son told her during a visit a month ago his stay in the pagoda would be temporary and he would return to the United States next year to go back to the University of Washington. Many Buddhist men spend periods of several months or years as monks, then return to their former lives.

"When I was a kid," Schlafer told newsmen, "I was a Torah (scriptures) reader in the synagogue. My parents didn't get excited about that. I don't think they're excited about this. They probably think it's another one of my wild schemes."

Schlafer came to Vietnam in 1963 as a Vietnamese interpreter after training at the Army's language school in Monterey, Calif. After his military service he studied Vietnamese literature at Van Hanh University, a Buddhist school in Saigon. Scholarships from the University of Michigan and the University of Washington helped finance him.

Starlings Still Posing Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite the introduction of sophisticated psychological warfare, the Pentagon apparently is not winning its battle against thousands of invading starlings.

Batteries of loudspeakers are employed to amplify recordings of the cries of wounded birds. The thought is that the starlings will get the idea the Pentagon grounds are not for the birds and will evacuate.

The results seem a standoff at best. Several thousand starlings have recently been seen perched in trees near the Pentagon's northwest gate, shrieking back at the anti-starling records and displaying no inclination to move on.

School Chiefs Open Four-Day Session

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California's school administrators have planned discussions ranging from data processing to instructional television in their convention today through Thursday.

More than 1,000 members of the California Association of School Administrators were expected to attend. On Thursday they will meet with their employers, the California School Boards Association.

Pentagon Buys More Tinsel Buffer To Foil Hanoi Radar

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is buying huge quantities of tinsel-like "countermeasure chaff" to throw a blizzard of confusing images into radars guiding North Vietnam's anti-aircraft guns.

The move reflects efforts to curb U.S. aircraft losses in the war, now totaling 758 over North Vietnam in less than three years of operation.

The chaff, made up of thread-sized strips of aluminum-coated fiberglass, is fired in puffs by American pilots approaching bombing target areas.

The puffs reflect enemy radar signals and create blips on radar screens just like planes, confusing anti-aircraft crews.

"It's like someone rolling a bunch of coconuts down a hill toward you with a hand grenade somewhere among them," a Navy officer explained.

In the past few days the Navy has ordered more than $1 million in chaff canisters, equaling its total purchases for the fiscal year ending last June 30. The Pentagon said the Navy will order an additional $3 million more by next summer.

The Air Force is more than quadrupling its use of chaff. Officials said they expect to buy $6.44 million worth, up from fiscal 1967's $1.4 million.

Both services will get fresh supplies of chaff over the next few months as the United States prepares for intensified bombing during the good weather months beginning in North Vietnam about March.

The use of chaff to foil enemy detection gear goes back to World War II. The tactic has assumed increased importance as the Pentagon seeks to counter North Vietnam's unprecedented air defenses.

Blue and silver in color, the chaff now in use resembles the shiny icicles used to decorate some Christmas trees.

Nervous Gunman Pulls $600 Job

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A young gunman robbed the Children's Hospital cashier's office of $600 yesterday after warning the cashier he was "very nervous."

Barbara Perigo, 22, told police the man sat reading in the lobby outside her office for about half an hour.

When she went behind a partition he followed her and pulled a gun. "I'm very nervous," he told her. "Be careful or I'll shoot."

After taking the money the robber escaped on foot.

27-Year-Old Dies An Anti-War Torch

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Eric Thoen, a 27-year-old unemployed bartender, died yesterday of massive burns suffered when he turned himself into a human torch to protest the war in Vietnam.

Thoen, who had been studying Zen Buddhism, doused himself with a kerosene or paint thinner Saturday and lit a match to his body.

Labor's Support Vital: Humphrey

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says labor's political support is vital to President Johnson and other Democrats in the 1968 elections.

"Any Democrat who doesn't think the labor movement is important, isn't much of a Democrat," Humphrey told a reporter.

Humphrey had an hour's private meeting Sunday with AFL-CIO President George Meany, here to open the 14-million member federation's convention later this week. Details of the talk were not disclosed.

Court Sets Negro Home Buying Study

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court agreed today to rule this term whether a real estate developer may bar Negro buyers on a blanket basis from an entire community.

The issue was placed on the Court's docket when the justices announced they would hear arguments in a case involving a St. Louis Negro, Joseph Lee Jones, who brought suit when denied the right to purchase a home in a North St. Louis County development.

After hearing arguments, the Court will issue a written opinion, probably before next June.

The case does not involve the question of an isolated instance of such a refusal by an individual homeowner but rather whether a community-wide ban violates the constitution.

In other actions, the Court:

In effect, approved a lower federal court ruling which ordered Gov. Lurleen B. Wallace and Alabama state education officials to carry out a state-wide school desegregation plan. The Court order affirmed the action of a special three-judge panel which on March 22 directing the state to inform 99 local school systems to carry out a model integration plan worked out by the judges.

Agreed to rule whether the "fairness doctrine" of the Federal Communications Commission is constitutional. Red Lion (A.) Broadcasting Co. challenged the doctrine which requires a broadcaster to air both sides of a controversial issue, including the allocation of free time if necessary.

Threw out Ohio's 1965 reapportionment law to realign the state's congressional districts. In a brief order reversing a U.S. district court which upheld the redistricting, the justices cited their 1964 ruling which held that all congressional districts must be substantially equal in population.

Ruled 6 to 1 in favor of the federal government in its legal dispute with Texas over approximately 26,000 acres of valuable submerged oil lands in the Gulf of Mexico. With Justice John M. Harlan dissenting, the Court agreed with the Justice Department that the boundary between state and federal-owned offshore areas must be measured from the shoreline itself rather than from artificial harbor works such as jetties which project into the Gulf.

Tribunal To Review Murder Conviction

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today to review the murder conviction of a California woman who challenged trial use of admissions made to an undercover agent planted in her jail cell.

F. Lee Bailey, attorney for Mrs. Lucille Miller, 37, of Alta Loma, claimed the procedure violated her constitutional right to counsel and against self-incrimination.

Mrs. Miller, convicted in 1965 in San Bernardino Superior Court of murdering her husband, Dr. Gordon E. Miller, is serving a life sentence at the California Institution for Women at Frontera.

THE CHARGES

The prosecution contended she set fire to their car while the dentist was asleep from an overdose of barbiturates. The prosecution also claimed Mrs. Miller wanted to be rid of her husband so that she could marry another man and collect $100,000 insurance.

Death Row Inmate Is Turned Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court refused today to grant a hearing to Booker T. Hillery Jr., under death sentence in California in the slaying of a 15-year-old high school girl.

Hillery, a San Quentin Prison inmate on Death Row, complained that a juror dismissed for cause at his first trial was allowed to sit at his second trial.

Among other claims he raised were that he had been denied counsel at jail, not told he had a right to remain silent during police interrogation and that evidence of prior wrongful acts should not have been admitted at trial.

Hillery was convicted of slaying Marlene Miller of Hanford, Calif., in March 1962. The Supreme Court refused in October 1964 to grant him a hearing.

Justice William O. Douglas noted that he favored hearing the case.

Wallet Looted

Curt E. Ruhl, 16, of 21 Florence Avenue, San Anselmo, told police he was delivering papers at 400 Canal Street, San Rafael, at 4:35 a.m. today when he was hit on the head and knocked unconscious. When he came to, he said he found $10 was missing from his wallet.

The defense contended the fire was accidental, that Mrs. Miller's involvement with the other man had been over for several months and that the Millers were reconciled at the time of the dentist's death.

At the trial, Peggy Fisk, an undercover agent who had been in Mrs. Miller's jail cell for seven days, testified that Mrs. Miller told her she did not love her husband, always loved the other man and still did and that she was planning to go to Europe with the insurance money.

AFFIRMS DECISION

The California District Court of Appeal in San Bernardino County, affirming the murder conviction in September 1966, labeled "completely indefensible" the use of Miss Fisk in an apparent attempt to obtain incriminating statements from Mrs. Miller.

However, the California court concluded "no injury occurred" to Mrs. Miller from Miss Fisk's testimony, that under cross-examination Miss Fisk also testified that Mrs. Miller had "stoutly maintained her innocence."

California Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch opposed Bailey's appeal. He told the Supreme Court in a brief that before Miss Fisk took the stand "the prosecution had already proved that appellant's (Mrs. Miller's) motive had been to get rid of her husband so that she could be free to marry another man."

Bailey contended, however, that Miss Fisk's testimony was critical, that it was the only evidence offered by the state alleging Mrs. Miller was in love with the other man at the time of her husband's death.

Youths Cited On Marijuana

Five Novato High School students were cited to Juvenile Hall on suspicion of possession of marijuana and hashish. Novato police reported.

After a routine traffic stop at 12:55 a.m. yesterday, police found three cigarettes thought to be marijuana and a quantity of a substance thought to be hashish, police reported. They cited the two girls and two boys, all 16 years of age, to Juvenile Hall.

Subsequent investigation of that case led to the arrest and citing to Juvenile Hall of another 16-year-old Novato High School student at 9 a.m. yesterday, according to Novato Police.

League Reports $25,000 Still Need For Land

The Marin Conservation League reported yesterday that $25,000 is still needed to meet the $85,000 purchase price of Kent Island, plus $2,000 in attorneys' fees and cost of paper work. The park has been given to Marin County as a wildlife refuge.

The conservation league, Nature Conservancy and Audubon Society had backed purchase of the island in Bolinas Lagoon from Mrs. Thomas T. Kent Jr. with donations, promises of future funds and mortgage backing. The island was purchased to stop plans for development of a large marina.

The groups have three years to pay the $85,000 to Mrs. Kent for the island, but conservationists said they would like to complete the deal by the end of the year.

Contributions toward purchase of the island, the league said, may be made to Save Kent Island Fund, Wells Fargo Bank, Box 7776, Rincon Annex, San Francisco.

Trial Is Set On Burglary

Jury trial of Henry Earl Crutchfield, 18, and Morlin Smith, 20, both accused of burglary, is scheduled to begin tomorrow in Marin Superior Court.

Crutchfield and Smith, both of Marin City, are charged with the June 16 burglary of the home of Andrew S. Cowie at 1135 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera.

Also scheduled for tomorrow is the Superior Court trial of Peter Virgil Davis, 20, of 647 of having a mail amount of marijuana in his possession when questioned by sheriff's deputies on Mount Tamalpais April 8.

School Buildings On Agenda

The completion of some of the district's building program will highlight the meeting of the Novato Unified School District board at 8 p.m. today in the administration building.

Three classrooms have been completed at the San Jose Junior High School remodeling project and the grading at the San Marin High School site has been completed.

Other items on the agenda include a discussion of single session kindergartens and authorizing the sale of a used Jeep.

Tam Retirement Home Tax Plan To Be Presented

A proposed agreement by Tamalpais Retirement Home to guarantee that Larkspur will get property taxes from the $10.5 million retirement project will be presented to the Larkspur City Council at its 8 p.m. meeting Wednesday.

Utah Construction Co. which owns the home being constructed on Bon Air Hill, has assured the council that even if the home is passed on to a non-profit organization, the city will not be deprived of taxes, of the equivalent in funds.

The council also will further consider a request by Schultz Investment Co. for permission to dredge in the Arroyo Holon slough near the city's park area.

A proposal by the Marin chapter of American Red Cross that they be permitted to erect a chapter headquarters building on a long-term $1-a-year lease on city land in Piper Park adjacent to Doherty Drive is also scheduled for consideration.

Large-Scale Bay Fill For Houses Deplored By Development Group

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Large-scale filling of San Francisco Bay for residential development is not necessary and should not be allowed, according to a report released today by the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

Even small fills for residential use should be permitted only if they also provide new shoreline parks, the report concluded.

REPORT DUE

The report was prepared by Clifford W. Graves, a planner on the commission's staff, and will be presented to commissioners when they meet Thursday at 2 p.m. in the State Building, 455 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco.

There will be "plenty" of inland areas available for housing "for at least the next 50 years," the report said. It cited an Army Corps of Engineers' estimate in 1959 that even with a population of 14.4 million by the year 2020, less than two-thirds of the potential urban land in the Bay Area would be used. Present population is almost four million.

REDUCES VALUE

Bay fill for any purpose, the report said, reduces the ability of the bay to assimilate sewage dumped into it, reduces its value for fish and wildlife, and reduces the influence of the bay in helping to prevent air pollution and to moderate temperatures.

Developers, builders and a few residents are the private beneficiaries of housing on the bay, the report said, "but the cost of the damage to the bay are borne by the public of the Bay Area as a whole."

The report suggested one type of housing that causes "minimum damage" to the environment and would be particularly feasible in Marin County — houseboats. Most of the existing houseboats on the bay area in Sausalito and along Corte Madera Creek, it said.

PARKING ACCESS

The report said any plans for a large number of persons to live on houseboats would require secure moorings, protection from wind and waves, and utilities, services and easy access to parking and public facilities. No such facilities exist "or are being planned," the report noted.

The best places for such types of development would be protected areas such as Richardson Bay, near the mouth of the Petaluma River and at the south end of the bay, according to the report.

Housing on the shoreline, the report suggested, also would be less harmful if piles instead of fill were used to support buildings.

MASTER PLANS

Master plans for most of Marin's bay shoreline still are "highly generalized," the report said.

The report was prepared to help the commission draw a plan for the future of the bay, which is due before the legislature in January, 1969.

King Announces New Rights Drive

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said today his organization will lead "waves of the nation's poor and disinherited to Washington, D.C. next spring to demand redress of their grievances by the United States government and to secure at least jobs or income for all."

King announced plans for the Washington campaign at a news conference after a weeklong meeting of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference staff in South Carolina.

The demonstrations will begin "roughly around the first of April," King said.

He said the primary responsibility for such problems as low wages and unemployment and slums rest with the President and the Congress.

A day on the planet, Neptune, equals 15.8 hours; a year is equivalent to 165 earth years.

Hearing Is Set

On Air Pollution

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary John W. Gardner of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare announced today a hearing will be held Jan. 15 on whether California should be permitted to conduct its own program of control for motor vehicle air pollution.

The Air Quality Control Act signed last month by President Johnson authorizes California to conduct its own program if its standards meet compelling and extraordinary conditions, are more stringent than federal standard and are technologically and economically feasible.

PEGGY GOLDWATER put a pale rose boutonniere matching her corsage in her husband, Sen. Barry M. Goldwater's lapel and they turned to enter the church for the wedding of their son. They arrived in the Bay Area Thursday from their Phoenix, Ariz. home.

GOLDWATER SON, MICHAEL, MARRIES IN ROSS

day nuptials. The Rev. Harold Hallett assisted Rt. Rev. Joseph Hart, Episcopal Bishop of Arizona, with the ceremony. Less than 15 minutes later the newlyweds were greeted by his parents, Senator and Mrs. Goldwater, outside the church. Small groups of Ross residents gathered in front to see the wedding party and families enter the church and leave afterward for the reception at the Meadow Club. The couple will live in Mill Valley after a Hawaiian wedding trip.

'—My Son's A Dirty Drop-Out'

By JEAN HELLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — "I hear other parents talk about how their kids are in college or are doctors and teachers and what can I say? My son's a dirty, rotten social dropout."

It takes courage for a mother to get up in front of people she hardly knows and say a thing like that. But here, every Tuesday night, it happens.

THE MOTHER AND those who gathered to hear her were parents of hippies. They were drawn together by the mutual hope of mutual help in searching for some way to get their runaway children to come home.

For lack of a better name, they call themselves the National Society for the Parents of Flower Children. It is not so much an organization as it is group therapy during which — the parents hope — they may learn something from each other that they can use to help their children.

There was, for instance, the mother who lost her 17-year-old son to the hippie subculture she cannot understand. He left home four years ago. Lately he's been coming back when he's hungry or in trouble with the law.

"Once I sat up all night outside a jail knowing my son was in a cell inside and I thought things could never be any worse," she said. "Then the next morning I heard he had escaped and suddenly things were much worse."

"There are times I feel there's just no reason to hope that we'll ever be happy again. All we need is one step forward. Just one. We'd take our boy back. We want him back. But he doesn't want us."

The NSPFC group is small. It started with 35 parents and has dwindled during its two months of existence to 15.

The NSPFC meets on Tuesday nights in a hall at St. Thomas' Episcopal Church located just one block from Dupont Circle, Washington's hippie area.

At first, the group meetings were tense, a little like the opening of a new chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous, as one parent put it.

"WHEN PARENTS FIRST come, they're belligerently defensive," a father said. "They think only their children need help. They find it very difficult to sit in front of other people and admit that they may have failed their children as much as they think their children failed them."

"The road back from this problem isn't a one-lane road. The parents and the children have to travel it together."

Some parents think they may have found the road back and they are anxious to tell other NSPFC members about it.

"After hunting for a year I found my son and to my surprise he agreed to submit to a mental examination, not so much out of willingness to return to the fold but more out of interest in what the doctors would do to him," one father said at a recent meeting.

He volunteered to give the group full details on the examination and its results as soon as he could.

"If it helps my son maybe it can help some of you," he said. "I have hope."

"HE DOESN'T WEAR the way-out clothes. The hair and the beard, yes. He has withdrawn from everything material, devoted himself to a life of meditation, living on brown rice and tea, yes.

"But he lives in a relatively clean place. Kooky but clean. He smokes a little pot, a little opium. He paints when he feels like it."

"But when I found him a year ago he was living in filth and such crowded condition that you couldn't get inside the door without retching. So he hasn't gone down. If anything, he's come up a little bit."

The mother whose son left four years ago said:

"I hear about the others who are making progress and I feel good for them, I really do. But after four years I can't help thinking, oh dear God, it must be my turn!"

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Smart And Happy, Who Keeps Husband, Gets Answering Letters

DEAR HELEN:
May I write a fan letter to "Smart and Happy" who made a list of her shortcomings, then changed herself into a model wife to please her husband?

DEAR MRS. S. AND H.:
After reading your remarkably astute comments in Helen's column, I now have three favorite authors: O'Henry, Hemingway and you! Unfortunately, my wife does not agree with me. After I pinned your fine letter to her pillow, I am now sleeping in the guest room. — DAN

DEAR HELEN:
The sickening advice "Smart and Happy" gave for keeping a husband gave me the shudders. And you agreed with her, Helen! How could you?

I am fat and 55, gray, talk too much on the phone, change the sheets when I'm good and ready, have my own bedroom, cook and serve meals to my own taste, leave the table at the moment I'm finished, don't even iron the pillow cases, much less rub talcum powder into them.

The only reason for a woman to bow down to a skirt-chasing husband is that she's so dumb she hasn't learned her way around, and can't make a living for herself.

Get smart, S and H: You may think it's a second honeymoon, but he is only getting his second wind! — INDEPENDENT

DEAR HELEN:
I'm married 23 years, and don't need all this baloney that "Smart and Happy" thinks is necessary to keep a husband.

Make-up, tight skirts, tinted hair and a clean house don't always keep a man at home. If a husband is the chaser type, he'll chase, no matter how ready and willing his wife is. If he isn't, she can be a fat, sloppy nag, and he'll still stay home and take it.

This S and H sounds like a paragon. Doesn't she ever get tired and irritable like normal people? Must she always be made up and dressed up and fixed up, with candlelit dinners and sweet smelling pillow cases — which are changed every day? I'll bet the neighbor women hate her. And I'll bet even her pampered husband wishes she were human once in a while. — MARRIED TO A WONDERFUL MAN

DEAR HELEN:
When I first read "Smart and Happy's" letter, I groaned. Especially since my husband read it first. "What a woman to live up to," I thought, and privately hated her.

But then I analyzed the points she made and saw they weren't too much to ask of a loving wife. I've been trying to follow them (almost — I still change my sheets and pillowcases only once a week), and guess what? My husband has turned over a lot of new leaves too. When a wife shapes up, her husband shakes down to good, solid appreciation. — CHANGING WIFE

DEAR HELEN:
Cards and letters to shut-ins can be the difference between living and just waiting out the days.

I have a dear friend who has been in a wheel chair, unable to walk after a stroke, for over a year. She enjoys people, and she looks forward to greeting the mailman each day. She reads without glasses, which is excellent for a woman of 88.

If my request for cards could be heeded, I know your readers would make my friend very happy. Her name: Mrs. Catherine Cummins, 1217 Payne St., Louisville, Ky., 40202. Thank you. — B.M.D.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Early Obesity May Persist Through Life

Obesity developing in early childhood will persist throughout life, two Harvard pediatricians warn in the December issue of Medical Times.

They believe it is misplaced pride that causes the mother and her baby's doctor to brag about him gobbling his prepared formula, beginning solids at four to six weeks, doubling his birth weight at three months and tripling it at nine.

The fat child is prone to accidents, often falls in school, cannot distinguish himself on the athletic field and is susceptible to disease of the weight-bearing joints.

Drs. John D. Crawford and Herbert A. Haessler say pediatricians must take an active role in recognizing early obesity, studying the patients and developing new methods to cope with the problem.

Patrick W. Meherin Weds Susan Mason

St. Anselm's Church in San Anselmo was the setting on Saturday for the wedding of Susan Kay Mason of San Rafael and Patrick William Meherin of San Anselmo.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mason of Redding.

For her wedding the bride chose a white Empire gown of peau de soie.

Preceding the bride to the altar in gowns of emerald green and white were her sister, Mrs. Michael Bowman of Redding, matron of honor, and bridesmaids, Joann Inauer of San Rafael and Mrs. Claude Beterbide of Redding.

Paul Brossier of Mill Valley acted as best man and ushering were Michael Meherin of San Anselmo, the bridegroom's brother, and Robert Wendling of San Rafael.

A reception followed the ceremony at Maple Lawn in San Rafael.

The bride was graduated from Shasta High School at Redding and is employed with Pacific Telephone.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. William Meherin of San Anselmo and the late Mr. Meherin, was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School. He is employed with the Bourbon Shops in San Francisco. Mrs. Robert Peters of Sunnyvale is his sister and he is the grandson of Mrs. Lillian Krigbaum of San Anselmo.

The couple will live in San Rafael.

Serena Joan Strazzulla of San Francisco became Mrs. J. Scott Kokjer Nov. 18 in Las Vegas. She is an alumna of Pine Manor College and is a fashion coordinator at The Emporium in San Francisco.

The couple will live in Sausalito.

The bride wore a pale blue silk dress and jacket. The bridegroom, who lives in Sausalito, is the son of Mrs. Jeanne Kokjer of Mill Valley and Donald Kokjer of San Francisco. His grandmother is Mrs. Louise Sparrow of San Rafael, and his sister is Carol Kristine Kokjer of San Rafael.

He attended College of Marin and is with New York Life Insurance Co. in San Rafael.

The new Mrs. Kokjer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Lynda Bird's House Locale Pupils Send A Yule Message Is A Secret

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Lynda Bird Johnson and her future husband, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb, have found a home in the Washington area to live in after their marriage.

The location of the house is a secret for the time being, but it has to be different from the average newlyweds' hideaway—for one thing it's got to be big enough to accommodate Lynda's Secret Service guardians.

A round-the-clock guard on Lynda is a must even after she is married.

The couple is expected to live in the house at least until mid-March, when Robb is due to go to Vietnam.

With just five days to go before the Saturday White House wedding, Lynda is doing some intensive studying in the culinary arts. In other words, she's trying to learn how to cook.

The White House reports that the President's 23-year-old daughter has received at least a dozen cookbooks as wedding gifts since the word got around that she can't cook.

At the time Lynda made her confession, she quoted her mother as telling her not to worry about it. "If you can read . . . you can cook," was the First Lady's advice.

Christmas for the U.S. men in combat in Vietnam is the concern of the 40 second graders in Sister Anastasia's class at St. Raphael's School, San Rafael. So each of the pupils made a card from colored construction paper and wrote a Christmas message.

Some samples— "Dear Friend, I am praying for you. I hope you will have a Merry Christmas. I am so happy Christmas is near now. Every morning I think of you. Maybe some day you will come back to your family. I hope you will have a merry, merry Christmas, love."

"Dear Friend: I hope you are going to be okay. I hope you are going to win the war. I hope you have a happy Christmas. Love."

The cards will be sent Vietnam through the Red Cross, which has a youth enrollment program in Marin County schools. Membership cards and enrollment pins are given to the pupils and the money they give is used by students in Marin for community, national or international service projects.

Each year Terra Linda High School students buy and decorate a Christmas tree for Mag-olia Park School in Lucas Valley. Tama's High School also used to send selected high requested money from these school students to a week-long leadership development center.

Deep Steam Wall-to-Wall Carpet Cleaning

This unique new process cleans deep and yet treats the finest carpet with loving care . . .

DEEP STEAM removes soil from both the pile of the carpet and the carpet backing. Since no brushes or scrubbing action is used, there is no distortion of the carpet pile. The powerful extraction action of the DEEP STEAM process lifts matted pile to "like new" appearance. The need for frequent professional cleaning is reduced because deeply embedded soil is removed and leaves no residue in the carpet fibers to collect dirt. During this cleaning operation every fiber is coated with a SOIL RETARDANT to keep your carpet clean longer.

The old equipment with brushes, using liquid detergent or powder, scrubs the soil DEEPER into the fabric . . . and even with the help of a vacuum fails to remove soil or residue. The detergent or powder left in the fabric soon attracts more soil and it is not long before the soil works back to the surface. Soon your carpets appear more soiled than before!

The advantages of DEEP STEAM CLEANING are obvious!

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM FOR CHRISTMAS

San Francisco:—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius Olga.

DRUG ABUSE CLINIC

Seven Teen-Agers Report On 'Trips'

By THERON A. NEWELL

The communications barrier fell Saturday afternoon as seven teen-age drug users told what they got out of using it to 30 adults in the second week of a three-Saturday seminar on drug abuse at the supervisor's chambers in Civic Center.

Billed as a half-hour special program, two hours later both the teen-agers and adults were reluctant to leave the session at which frank questions were thrown at the youths and equally frank answers given.

Reno Taino, William Curran and David Englin, teachers at Thornton and Jefferson high schools in Daly City, said that the drug problem hit their schools two years ago. They started a program to try to find out why students used it and tried to establish confidence and communications with those using drugs.

URGENT PROGRAM All seven teen-age dope users agreed that schools should teach the effects of drug use to students as soon as they became exposed to it, probably in the late elementary grades or junior high school, and continuing on through high school.

None of them knew of any teacher qualified to teach the younger generation about marijuana, LSD, speed and the other drugs which are available to teen-agers.

The teachers and other adults sat amazed as the teen-agers told of their world of marijuana and LSD, hoping for understanding from the adults.

Boy No. 1 was 18 years old. He was a native of The Netherlands where he was an excellent student until his family moved to the U.S. "To make money," he was put back two years in school because he did not know English. He rebelled at the school system, and got straight F's. He finally dropped out in his sophomore year. He turned to LSD and went to the Haight-Ashbury District, where he made his living pushing LSD.

RETURNS HOME "I found myself with LSD and am going to finish high school in one year instead of two with straight A's," he said.

All seven of them had used marijuana and LSD. When teen-ager No. 7, 19 years old, said that LSD opened a door, they chimed in that it was either a door or it cleaned off a window so that they could see better.

"LSD opened the door for me. I found that school was so much bull, so I dropped out. LSD opened a door for me and I went in. All I found was a dark room, so I couldn't find any future for myself," he said. He admitted that he has been just drifting around.

"I was 'busted' (sent to jail) for having marijuana and haven't been able to get a job since," he said.

All seven unanimously expressed a great desire to have marijuana and LSD legalized. All of them said that society's ills had caused them to turn to the use of drugs.

Dr. Sanford J. Feinglass, drug abuse educator for the Marin County Schools, asked them to define drug abuse.

No. 2 said that it was smoking too many cigarettes. The others admitted that they were abusing it.

One of the teachers, Curran, said he felt that "we could get rid of 80 per cent of the problem if we legalized marijuana and LSD."

March Against The Draft Board

SACRAMENTO (AP)—About 100 people demonstrating against the draft braved early morning cold and damp today and marched five miles from Sacramento State College to the Selective Service office in downtown Sacramento.

The demonstrators marched peacefully two abreast down S Street and then assembled at the Post Office building to protest the draft and the Vietnam war.

The march followed an all night teach-in at Sacramento State College sponsored by the Students for a Democratic Society. It was held at the campus gymnasium.

Six Injured In Collision On Wet Road

Five senior citizens from Redwood City and a Tiburon man were injured yesterday in a rear-end collision on the Green-bay overpass.

A northbound car driven on rain-slick Highway 101 by George Joseph Petty, 72, of Redwood City, stopped behind slowing traffic at 5:25 p.m. and was struck from behind by one driven by Edward P. Thompson, 46, of 4697 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Thompson was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with internal injuries and a cut nose.

Petty was treated at the hospital for a neck sprain. His passengers were Cyril Andre Petty, 66, San Francisco, treated for multiple bruises; Mary Dorothy Petty, 64, San Francisco, reported in good condition with a fractured left wrist; Margaret Petty, 66, Redwood City, was reportedly in good condition with a fractured right wrist and right leg; Kathleen Frances Petty, 65, San Francisco, was treated for multiple bruises.

Booked into county jail in absentia at 7:30 on suspicion of felony drunk driving, Thompson was released without bail at 7:45 p.m., also in absentia, patrolmen reported.

Senator Kuchel To Be Honored

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel will be honored by the Marin Republican Council at a public reception at Bob's of Marin on Dec. 15 from 5:30 to 7 p.m.

Henry J. Broderick, MRC president, said the time and location of the reception at the Corte Madera restaurant were selected to provide an opportunity for homeward bound commuters to pull off the freeway and meet the senator.

Kuchel, a veteran of 15 years in the Senate, is seeking re-election in the 1968 elections. As Republican whip, he is the assistant managing editor of the upper house of Congress.

Newsman From Korea Starts Visit At I-J

The Independent-Journal today temporarily added to its staff Chung Tae-Yun, assistant managing editor of Hankook Ilbo, a daily newspaper in Seoul, Korea.

Chung is in the United States as a participant in the U.S. Department of State's multi-national foreign journalist program. He has been in this country since Sept. 10, and came to the I-J from the Baltimore Sun-papers, where he spent the past three weeks, mostly in the Sunpaper's Washington bureau. He will remain with the I-J for two weeks.

Chung was promoted to assistant managing editor from foreign news editor of Hankook Ilbo since arriving in the United States. He said today it is possible he may return to this country as his paper's Washington correspondent.

He has traveled widely, including a period as Vietnamese war correspondent. As a newspaper man he has visited 60 countries of Asia, Europe, Africa, and Latin America.

During his Marin visit he will accompany various members of the Independent-Journal staff in their daily work, will address clubs and classes at College of Marin, Redwood High School and Tamalpais High School, and write some comment on foreign affairs for the editorial page of the Independent-Journal.

He will stay with Korean friends in Marin.

Two Marinites Hurt In Crash

Two Marinites were among four people injured yesterday in a two-car crash on the Marin off-ramp of the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco.

Adrian F. Pena, 21, of 1888 Mountain View Drive, Tiburon told the California Highway Patrol that in heavy rainfall at 6:50 p.m. his northbound car slid into the ramp wall, then bounced back to hit head-on a southbound car driven by Ronald R. E. Casteel, 27, of San Francisco.

Pena was being held for observation today at Mission Emergency Hospital, San Francisco. His passenger, Oliver Hermsdorf, 18, of 203 Beryl Avenue, Mill Valley, was treated for minor injuries at the hospital.

Casteel and his passenger, Joyce Casteel, 46, of San Francisco, were transferred to Franklin Hospital, San Francisco, for treatment.

Tree Plan Hurting Because Of Funds

QUINCY (AP) — Plumas County residents may cancel their plan to send 200 Christmas trees to servicemen in Vietnam because they haven't been able to raise the money to pay for air transportation.

Officials of "Operation Pine Cone" said they need $2,000 but have raised less than $500. A decision will be made Monday.

'CRIME ON GOAT ISLAND'

A morality play by the Italian playwright Ugo Betti, "Crime on Goat Island," will be performed at 8:30 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Dec. 11 through 16 at the little theater at the College of Marin. Corrine Atkinson of Novato will play Agata and Robert Phelps of Tiburon will be Angelo in the play set on an isolated island where man has returned to the primitive.

CONCERT REVIEW

Community Band's Sound Well Heard

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Saturday night's winter concert of the College of Marin Community Band, directed by John H. Myers, was a second test of the acoustics in the college's new theater by a large music ensemble, and the theater came through with flying colors.

Individual instruments in the band composed of some 54 players were clearly heard — balance of the brasses on opposite sides of the stage was excellent — and there was all the sound one could want in the big climaxes.

Another interesting test will be the concert of the community orchestra next Saturday with softer instrumental timbres.

HIGH QUALITY

As noted in a previous article, what was needed to improve Opening, closing and encores sound better. This was done by a three-sectional shell on each side of the stage and a two-sectional in the back behind the timpani and percussion. Additional sections in the back would probably increase brilliance.

Quality of performance was at a high level, and the program was interesting, for one of Myers' strong points as a conductor is program planning. Opening, closing and encores with not too familiar Sousa marches — "Daughters of Texas," "Powhatan's Daughter" and "Corcoran Cadets" respectively — the program emphasized contemporary music with five out of eight numbers written by composers still living or little more than two decades deceased. Four out of eight pieces were original band compositions.

VERVE, STYLE

The opening and closing Sousa marches were the 19th and 20th in Myers' continuing project of performing all Sousa marches still available. He confesses to a special affinity for the unusual ones, and they were played with verve and style, as was the "Holyrood" march by Kenneth Alford.

Testing the rhythmic skill of the players were the modern sounding three excerpts from Poulenc's "Les Biches" ballet transcribed for band by Lucien Cailliet and the "Chester" overture by William Schuman.

The colorfully scored instrumental texture was fascinating in the "Scenes From the Louvre" that Norman Dello Joio developed as a work for band from his original music score for the NBC television special "The Louvre."

Rimsky-Korsakov's brilliantly clean-cut scoring was well transcribed by L. W. Chidester from band in the revolutionary song "Dubinushka" and well performed by the ensemble.

The only antique piece was an aria and fugue by Handel in which woodwinds and brasses clearly outlined the fugual structure in fine legato playing.

ART EXHIBIT

With an art exhibit to view in the foyer and coffee served after the performance, the large audience was able to savor the cultural graces of a true fine arts center.

Though Marinites are fortunate to have this attractive complex in the county, there is still a need for the larger veterans' memorial auditorium in the Civic Center. After all, the college needs the theater most of the time for its own use.

Puppet Show

The Berkeley Puppeteers will present a full length play, "Kasper and Princess No-No-No", at the Marin Jewish Community Center, San Rafael, on Christmas Day. Information on tickets may be secured at the Community Center.

The Wedding Draws Humor From LBJ

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A good-humored father-of-the-bride, President Johnson, welcomed a group of distinguished visitors today to "the poor man's wedding chapel" — the White House East Room.

The occasion was a ceremony at which Johnson signed a bill extending programs to aid mentally retarded persons. But the President's mind clearly was on next Saturday afternoon's wedding of daughter Lynda to Marine Capt. Charles S. "Chuck" Robb in the East Room.

JOVIAL MOOD

To the senators, congressmen, top government officials and others, Johnson joked: "Mrs. Johnson and I are happy to welcome you to the East Room. This is the poor man's wedding chapel, one of the fringe benefits of the presidency."

But he added, "you can have a wedding here and no one thinks it's cheap. We wanted to have the wedding here after one of my more recent experiences in the church." (This was a reference to his Nov. 12 experience of being lectured on his Vietnam war policy by a minister at a Williamsburg, Va. church.)

COMIC THEME

Continuing his comic theme, the President said he wanted it understood in the face of a political year that "Mrs. Johnson and I are still paying for Luci's wedding," but he said: "That is no excuse for deficit financing."

Reagan Voices No Interest In No. 2 Position

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan today refused to comment on his availability for the Republican presidential nomination but indicated he would not accept second spot on the national ticket.

"I have never been impressed by how much the vice presidential candidate contributes to the ticket in terms of vote-getting," he said.

Reagan speaking at a news conference at Yale University, took a swipe at Vietnam War dissenters and said he was "emotionally" sympathetic to the suggestion by Selective Service Director Gen. Lewis B. Hershey that dissenters be reclassified by their draft boards.

Nelson Views His San Quentin Role

By DON BRANNING

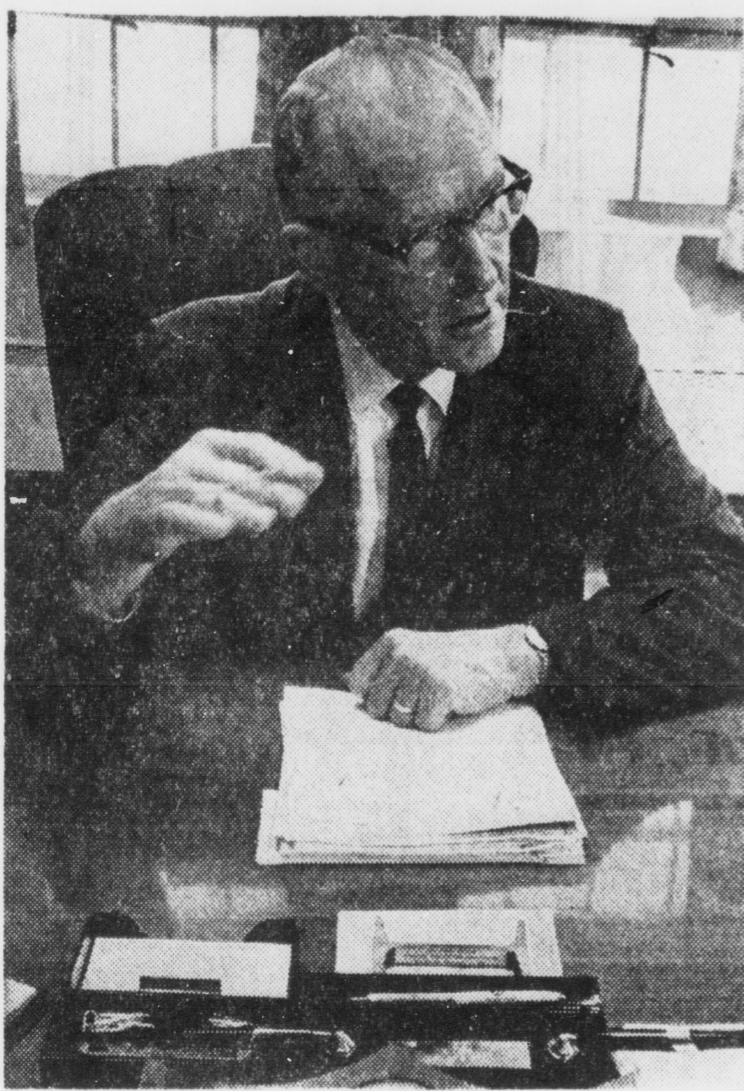

Cynicism and excessive optimism about their work, indeed, about life, are the cushions of amateurs. Asked what he really accomplishes, Warden Louis S. Nelson of San Quentin tries to leave himself with that sober consolation of the professional, realism.

Nelson, 57, believes he has reduced violence at San Quentin since being appointed to the warden's job in June, his stated purpose. As for the rest, the remaking of the lives of the inmates, he said, "We don't even know whether we are doing any better than 50 years ago, or 20 years ago."

WITH HOPE

"We don't have any good pills. I'm not a fairy godmother to make Cinderella out of the little hearth girl. I get a little sick of panaceas, ideas to change the whole system. But in this work, you must augment your attitude with hope."

"How do you modify a man's attitude? Although I've been accused of being simple minded, I believe that many of the inmates will respond to being treated as human beings. Some will not respond. You must be honest with them. You must not communicate to them that they are anything less than human beings."

A REALIST — Warden Louis S. Nelson of San Quentin has no illusions about the limitations of his work with the inmates, but says his basic philosophy is to treat the inmates as human beings. (Independent-Journal photo) looking girl, have a well stocked liquor cabinet, new car, television set, and these are things you can't get right away in the average job."

Nelson has been in prison work since 1940, when he went from a deputy sheriff's job in Tonopah, Nev., to a guard's job at the MacNeil Island penitentiary in Washington. When he was mustered out of the service in 1946, he thought about getting out of the work and going into the retail liquor business in Nevada, but he went over to lend a hand in the riots at Alcatraz in May, 1946, and remained in prison work.

LIFE IN PRISON

"If I didn't think I was doing some good, I wouldn't have stayed in it all these years," he said. "I think we can offer them the opportunity to learn work skills, to learn the dignity of work. To some of them, we can offer the opportunity to learn to read and write."

"They can fall in with the inmate culture, or they can try to keep so busy that they are not so aware they are behind walls. You can't put the pages back in the calendar. It is so much time out of a man's life. The only thing he can do is to take every step he can to keep it from happening again."

Jet Skis

LONDON (UPI) — A Pan American Airways Boeing 707 jet bound for New York skidded off the runway into the mud last night on the takeoff. None of the 121 passengers and 10 crewmen was injured and the airline said other arrangements would be made for the passengers.

Warehouse Shed Burglary Reported

Pizza plates, copper pots and clothing, valued at more than $600, were taken from an old warehouse shed in Manzanita sometime after Oct. 31, 1966, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Mrs. Camilla Russo, of Shoreline Highway, Manzanita, told deputies that the items owned by her were taken from the shed, north of the Marin County heliport, formerly used by the Inland Pacific Construction Co.

one assault. He believes that meeting with inmate leaders and demanding greater acceptance of responsibility from prison staffers may be helping the situation. But he admits that violence could break out today.

"On Thursdays, I take a walk through the prison and stop to have a bite to eat in the cafeteria," he said. "I often wonder what they are thinking. Some of them probably look at me as a target for murder and others probably regard me with affection."

"I would be the primary hostage in any kind of a revolt — but they know that an officer who is taken hostage is regarded as already dead."

"After all, there are nearly 3,500 of them and only 100 of us inside the walls. They could take over the prison. But then their authority would be their own hierarchy, and between that and us, they regard us as the lesser of two evils."

"No matter what you do, it's

Employees Pay Among Board Items

A request by the Marin County Employees Association for supplementary pay and fringe benefits will be considered tomorrow by the board of supervisors.

Supervisors will meet in the Civic Center from 9 a.m., with 47 items on the day's agenda.

The employees group seeks stand-by pay, pay differential for janitors on the swing and graveyard shifts, overtime pay after an accumulation of 40 hours compensatory time, and four weeks vacation after 15 years' service.

The board will also consider filling a vacancy on the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council left by Florence Scott. The League of Women Voters of Central Marin has recommended Mrs. Edwin Minneman of San Rafael.

The county clerk seeks extra help in the elections department because of the increased workload that will be imposed by congressional redistricting.

In the afternoon, supervisors will continue hearings on the countywide sewerage study completed by Brown and Caldwell of San Francisco.

At 4 p.m. bids will be opened for stage rigging, lighting and seating in the proposed veterans memorial auditorium. Bids on construction of the building itself and on site work will be opened on Dec. 12.

Candace Mossler
Flashes Diamond,
Denies Any Plans

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Candace Mossler, who was acquitted with her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, on charges of murdering her husband, flashed a big diamond ring yesterday but refused to say her marital status.

The aunt and nephew were ruled innocent last March 6 of the slaying of Jacques Mossler, 69.

Mrs. Mossler said Powers did give her the ring, adding: "I love Mr. Powers much more now . . . but I think I've always loved him. I don't even know when it started but I've always loved him."

Mrs. Mossler says she is 41, although her birth certificate was filed Feb. 18, 1920, in Haralson County, Ga. Powers is 30 years old.

Mrs. Mossler's first marriage ended in divorce.

Physician Takes New Role

By JOHN KEARNEY

It was raining hard as the two men, taking turns with a machete, hacked through tangles of staghorn fern.

Suddenly, ahead, was a waterfall dropping to 200 feet. Disturbed white-tailed tropic birds, far from the sea, wheeled high, screeching their complaints to the air.

Half hidden for centuries by foliage, the waterfall was overwhelming in its beauty.

"I like to think we were the first humans ever to see it," said one of the men, Dr. Martin Griffin of Kentfield.

Rare moments such as this have prompted Dr. Griffin, a physician in internal medicine in Marin for 19 years, to retire from practice at the age of 47. From now on he will devote himself almost exclusively to conserving what remains of nature's resources in place of conserving human life.

It was not an easy decision to break off an active and successful career in mid-span and head in another direction.

"I have been extremely happy in the field of medicine," he said. "I have many wonderful patients, friends and colleagues.

"After a great deal of thought I decided that while I was young I should devote full time to some of the problems of conservation which, I think, have reached a critical state, particularly in California.

"Perhaps when I get it out of my system I'll come back to practice."

For Dr. Griffin, active in conservation as well as medical circles in Marin for many years, the change of horses in mid stream will not be hazardous by any means.

Dual interests were kindled in his student days when he earned a degree in zoology at the University of California, Berkeley about the time he graduated with a medical doctorate from Stanford.

A turning point occurred this year when he grasped an opportunity to be physician and photographer on a scientific expedition to one of the last remaining areas of true wilderness left in the western world.

It was to the Kipahulu Valley on the southeast slopes of an extinct volcano, Mount Haleakala, on the Island of Maui Hawaii, not 2,000 miles from the bulging, smog-laden cities of California.

A 10-mile corridor of lush vegetation and tropical waterfalls stretching from the volcano's 10,025-foot summit to the sea was explored by the group and, on the basis of its preliminary report, negotiations were launched by Nature Conservancy to acquire options on the area for ultimate extension of Haleakala National Park.

As well as his practical duties with the scientific explorers, Dr. Griffin went along as a representative of Nature Conservancy, a private non-profit organization with which he has been associated in the Bay Area for several years.

While most of the remainder of Maui has become cultivated over the years, Dr. Griffin said it was the rain — an estimated 300 to 400 inches a year — which had kept the Kipahulu Valley free of man.

"There is a good chance that the area, which I call the Valley of One Hundred Unnamed Waterfalls, will be preserved in all its grandeur as a living biological laboratory and as a place for hikers to enjoy," he said. It is expected to cost $500,000.

When he discovered the spectacular 200-foot waterfall he was on a trip away from base camp with Dr. Richard E. Warner, leader of the expedition which was to conduct intense research during the month of August.

The pair had to turn their backs on the sight and grope back to camp in the gloom in a race against rising streams.

They crossed two swollen water courses and were heading for high ground when they were treated to a phenomenal view.

Waterfalls on the opposite cliff were suddenly springing into life.

"We counted 15, some with freefalls of several hundred feet dropping from the mist which obscured the top of the cliff," he explained.

Noise filled the valley and a breaking sun bathed the yellow-green foliage of an ancient Koa tree in brilliant light.

"It was still raining in the valley and the most glorious intense rainbow appeared to arch over the waterfalls. It lasted five minutes and when the show was ended, we both applauded."

His account of the days spent in the valley make fascinating listening. The area had been visited briefly on three other occasions. Twice, park rangers had struggled down the corridor but had emerged with their hands bleeding from fern cuts.

An interest in birds prompted him to note the different species. He said he saw at least six examples of the liwi with its long down-curved orange beak dripping nectar as it flew from tree to tree.

He was also sure he caught a glimpse of the short-beaked Akepe, a bird unreported on Maui since 1900.

Back at his home in Kentfield, Dr. Griffin is preparing a lecture he will give to the Adventure Club of Oakland on Thursday.

It will be illustrated with hundreds of colored slides he took of tropical jungle, rare birds and plants, grassy meadows, tree ferns and clear pools.

He is looking forward to an opportunity to be a physician on another expedition although he thinks most of his time with conservancy will be taken up with fund raising.

He was in on the initial efforts of Nature Conservancy to acquire Kent Island, Bolinas, as a county park and is present chairman of the fund formed to raise the purchase price. Kent Island he called his "favorite conservation project."

The first president of the Marin Audubon Society, he is a director of the Audubon Canyon Ranch and a founder and director of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum.

"I will not give up medicine entirely," he said, "and will continue to attend clinics." An original partner in the Ross Valley Medical Clinic, he is a former chief of medicine at Marin General Hospital and chief of staff at Ross Hospital.

His wife, Dr. Mary Griffin is a pediatrician with Marin County Health Department and they have four daughters, Joan, 14, and Carol, 16, both at Redwood High School; Ann, 18, at the University of Hawaii; and Linda, 20, at the Stanford University campus in Florence, Italy.

Man Wearing A Flag Arrested In Sausalito

Donald Richard Wilcox learned yesterday that wrapping himself in the U.S. Flag was no protection. In fact, he was arrested for it.

Sausalito police found Wilcox in Vina Del Mar Plaza at 11:30 a.m. yesterday, wearing nothing but a cape and hood made from a United States Flag and a white streamer around the waist printed with flag designs.

Wilcox, 23, said he was a preacher, but gave no address and not much other information, police said.

Samuel Royal, 25, who police said frequents Vina Del Mar Plaza, was arrested when according to police he interfered with conversations between Wilcox and officers.

"He kept poking his guitar in the officer's face," Chief Edward S. Kreins reported.

Royal, who also gave no address, was arrested when he refused to leave the scene and police added a charge of carrying a concealed weapon when they reportedly found a knife with a five and one-half-inch blade under his parka.

Wilcox was jailed in lieu of $315 bail for investigation of desecrating the flag, and Royal was jailed in lieu of $2,500 bail for investigation of obstructing an officer and carrying a concealed weapon. Both were to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Two Injured In Hub Car Collisions

Two men were injured, neither seriously, in separate rain-involved traffic accidents yesterday in San Anselmo.

Edward Lee Starr, 29, of 402 Scenic Road, Fairfax, told police he was driving in the 1300 block of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard about 2:30 a.m. when his windshield wipers failed. He said he swerved to avoid an oncoming car but collided, according to officers.

Starr, treated at Marin General Hospital for a forehead cut, said the driver of the second vehicle failed to stop after the wreck. A chrome headlight rim belonging to the second vehicle was found at the scene, police said. Starr's car was damaged on the left side.

Thomas LaMantea, 62-year-old painting contractor of 7 Maple Avenue, Kentfield, suffered minor neck and back injuries when the car he was driving was struck by one driven by Kenneth Turner Anderson Jr., 41, San Francisco.

Police said LaMantea was halted at a stop sign about 9:50 a.m. on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Barber Avenue when Anderson skidded on wet pavement and struck the rear of LaMantea's vehicle. Anderson was cited for following too closely, police said. LaMantea declined treatment.

East-West Route Plan Discussed

Route 17, the east-west connection from Highway 101 to Point Reyes, "should under no circumstances go through the center of Fairfax," county planner Albert Solnit declared today.

He made the comment during a briefing on the Fairfax General Plan before the Marin County Planning Commission. The briefing was in preparation for the joint meeting with the Fairfax City Council set for Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Fairfax Women's Club.

"A four-lane expressway is needed just to handle locally generated traffic," said Solnit. "I can't conceive of anything resembling a freeway over Sir Francis Drake Boulevard without devastating the town of Fairfax."

"Under no condition" is pretty strong language," said Dr. William F. Upton. He suggested that the language be toned down because a depressed route, for example, might be feasible through Fairfax.

Solnit replied that if "a yawning chasm" were to run through Fairfax, the aim of revitalizing downtown Fairfax would be defeated.

The Fairfax General Plan, drawn up by Solnit, also calls for "no major changes in Fairfax's role as a small residential community with village flavor in its commercial center."

The plan urges a cone connection from White's Hill to Manuel Freitas Parkway and Lucas Valley Road. It envisages Sir Francis Drake Boulevard as an intimate four-lane expressway, merging with Center Boulevard in San Anselmo to route traffic around the congested hub intersection.

"Fairfax is a stable community," Solnit noted. He said the general plan therefore emphasizes conservation of existing densities with highest densities centered around the old established town and along parts of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, leaving the hilly areas low density because of the difficult terrain.

STORAGE BIN TURNED INTO A SMALL PAD

It looked like a storage bin but to someone, it was home.

Roberta H. Roth of 195 Nova Albion Way said she was taking out the garbage Saturday night when she saw a 14-year-old youth lying in the storage bin.

The bin had a green run on the floor, a blanket, a small end table and a glass jar containing a candle.

When she spoke to the boy, he fled. Police are working on the theory he was a runaway.

Teen-Agers Reported As Missing

Two teen-agers were reported to police as runaways from their Novato homes over the weekend.

Ruth Louise Holdridge, 15, has been missing from her home at 186 San Carlos Way, since 3:45 p.m. last Wednesday, her mother, Nancy Joyce Holdridge told Novato police.

Ruth was described as five feet, two inches tall, weighing 116 pounds, of medium build with brown hair and brown eyes. When she left home, she was wearing white pants, a green corduroy coat and no shoes, according to police reports.

Terry Fay Wheelock, 18, left her home at 19 Stasia Drive last Friday and has not returned. Novato police reported. She was a student at the College of Marin. She left in her 1967 blue hard top, according to police.

She was described as five feet, five inches tall, weighing 120 pounds with blond hair and brown eyes. She was wearing blue pants, a white blouse and green coat when last seen, according to police.

Still missing from the Novato area is Cheryl Denise Graul, 16, of 242 San Jose Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, according to Novato police.

Park Purchase Pressure Mounts

Marin conservationists hope to jam the chambers of county supervisors tomorrow to urge that the county pressure state officials to purchase or condemn land for addition to Mount Tamalpais State Park.

The Marin Conservation League, at a special board of directors meeting tonight, is expected to pass a strongly worded motion urging supervisors to make it clear that Marin County wants the state to buy Frank's Valley, 2,141 acres of land adjacent to the park, now privately owned.

Injuries Minor In Weekend Novato Crashes

Two people suffered minor injuries in separate accidents in Novato over the weekend, according to Novato police.

Jill Kristine Lyons, 19, of Tomales Bay State Park, Inverness, received a bump on the head when her car hit one backing out of an angle parking place in the 1100 block of Grant Avenue at 12:18 p.m. Saturday. The driver of the car which backed out in front of the Lyons car was Lucille Bernice Johnson, 55, of 1873 Virginia Avenue, Novato.

Clarence Edward Conklin, 43, of Petaluma, was to see his own doctor for chest pain after his car hit a sign post at 7:15 p.m. yesterday while going east on San Marin Drive near Simmons Lane, police said.

Drunken Driving

Clovis Ray Hart, 37, of 809 Diablo Avenue, Apt. 13, Novato, was found guilty by a jury in Marin Municipal Court Friday of drunken driving on Highway 101 Sept. 16, when the California Highway Patrol arrested him.

California, U.S. Flags Are Burned

The United States flag and the California state flag were burned Saturday by intruders at Stinson Beach State Park, sheriff's deputies said today.

Supervisory Ranger Robert Carlson reported he was awakened at 11:10 p.m. by the voices of a group of men passing by his cabin.

He checked the tower building and discovered a fire inside the main office. Inside the two flags were burning, he said, and they were dragged outside and covered with sand to extinguish the flames.

Books and papers were thrown around the floor of the office by the intruders who gained entry through a north window, deputies said. Damage was estimated at $150.

Some San Marin Bids Studied

Some bids at last week's auction of San Marin properties in Novato will undoubtedly be accepted, Sunset International Petroleum Corp. president A. Bruce Rozet said today.

Rozet said it has not been decided which of the 16 parcels submitted for bids will be sold but that he "probably will confirm only a few sales." Information on the sales may not be released for another week, he said.

Rozet said that the sales office in San Marin will be continued and that the company expects to remain active here for some time to come and to continue developing the property.

Wheels Taken

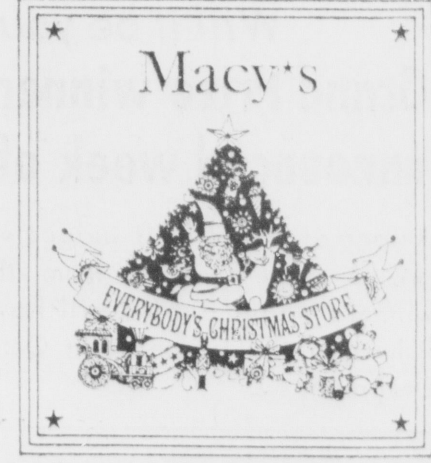

Someone took the tires and wheels, valued at $218, from his car while it was parked in front of his home at 17 Taft Court, Novato, between 11 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. yesterday, Joseph Antone Harmen, 37, reported yesterday to Novato police.

Group Of Democrats Endorses McCarthy

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy has gained the support of the Conference of Concerned Democrats in his bid to wrest the Democratic presidential nomination from President Johnson.

Between 450 and 500 persons from 42 states closed a two-day conference yesterday by shouting their endorsement of McCarthy for the 1968 nomination and unanimously approving a resolution praising the Minnesota lawmaker's "dynamic leadership."

The conference was aimed at finding an alternative to President Johnson's Vietnam policy. The resolution favoring McCarthy said in part: "McCarthy is a statesman who possesses the qualities of courage, leadership, humility and vision needed to instill faith in our government."

McCarthy announced Thursday he would be a candidate in four and possibly more state presidential primaries. During a conference session Saturday he said he will take part in the Massachusetts primary.

The primaries named Thursday were those in Wisconsin, Nebraska, Oregon and California.

In an address to the organization Saturday, McCarthy assailed the Johnson leadership for delivering a "message of apprehension, a message of fear" on the war in Vietnam.

He was asked by a delegate what relationship his campaign had with the activities of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

McCarthy replied: "There's no conspiracy, collusion or common plan between us. What he will do is up to him. Somebody had to make the test and now that we've made it we are going to pursue it."

Wreck Injuries Minor To Youths

Two Petaluma youths suffered minor injuries early yesterday when their northbound car veered off San Geronimo-Nicasio Road, two miles south of Nicasio, and struck a power pole.

The California Highway Patrol reported that the driver, Michael Ivan Roth, 19, of Petaluma, told officers he swerved to avoid a deer at 1:15 a.m.

Roth, who suffered minor head cuts and bumps, and his passenger, Frank Oliveria, 19, who suffered bruises, were to be treated by their own doctors, officers reported.

Airline Spokesman Says Costs Soaring

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representatives of 12 of the nation's major airlines have told the Civil Aeronautics Board that costs on their financial charts are soaring nearly as high and as fast as their modern jets.

"We are not prophets of doom, we are not a sick industry," said Stuart G. Tipton, president of the Air Transport Association. "We want to be able to continue to finance ourselves."

Zone Ordinance Change Before Council Tonight

Final adoption of an ordinance changing the zoning of a one-acre parcel on Paradise Drive from residential to a professional and administrative area is scheduled during the regular 7:30 p.m. meeting today of the Corte Madera Town Council.

The rezoning was approved Nov. 20 over the objection of owner William Swigard.

The council also is scheduled to pass a property transfer tax ordinance and to consider requests of two probationary employees for permission to continue residing outside the required five-mile area of Corte Madera.

A request for consideration of new sites for the county branch library is on the agenda, along with consideration of a letter from Marin Conservation League stating the league is favorable to annexation of its portion of a 280-acre parcel of tidelands fronting the Corte Madera bay and being studied by the council for annexation.

Plea By Yacht Club On Agenda

The Sausalito Yacht Club will get a public hearing before the Sausalito City Council tomorrow on its thrice-thwarted proposal to expand its waterfront building. The council will meet at 8 p.m. in the council chamber.

The yacht club proposal was voted on three times by the planning commission but never received the five votes necessary for approval, although never turned down either.

Hearings are also scheduled on a use permit and variance sought by Madden and Lewis, Inc., to build a restaurant at Humboldt and Johnson streets.

Cheaters Held Hurting Casinos

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI)—The Nevada Gaming Control Board chairman estimates Nevada casino owners are losing millions of dollars each year to cheaters.

"In northern Nevada alone," Frank Johnson said yesterday "outside (noncasino) slot machine cheats are accounting for losses of $1 million per year in taxable income."

Gaming officials estimate the figures by projecting normal slot machine take figures. Cheating losses at cards and dice aren't easily determined.

Christmas Playground Activities On Tap

Christmas playground activities will be planned by the Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

The commission will also review the program of the citizens bond committee. It will discuss sponsoring the Novato Ballet Guild and receive the director's monthly report.

$60,000 Haul Of Cigarettes

FRESNO (AP) — Burglars methodically ransacked nine transport trailers in an express company loading yard in Fresno early yesterday morning, removing about $60,000 worth of cigarettes and hauling them away in one of the firm's tractor and trailer rigs.

Officials of Merchants Express said hundreds of cases of goods — including sewing machines, radios, stereos and miscellaneous freight shipments — were removed from the trailers but left in the yard.

It was the second major cigarette burglary in the San Joaquin Valley in the few past days.

RCA Says Stations Operating

The Radio Corporation of America transmitting and receiving stations at Bolinas and Point Reyes were reported in full operation today by a station spokesman, in spite of a strike or lockout of 63 persons who normally man the stations.

Paul Gray, station engineer, said from Bolinas that supervisory personnel were operating the stations which relay and transmit overseas, ship-to-shore and plane-to-shore radio messages at Bolinas and receive messages at Point Reyes.

Union spokesmen in New York where negotiations are being carried on said they are asking a six and one-half to seven per cent yearly wage increase in a three-year pact. A union representative here said the stations were shut down on Friday when the company locked out workers who arrived for an afternoon shift.

Gray said he had no word on how negotiations were proceeding in New York.

Airport Ready For Landings

Marin County airport at Novato will re-open to aircraft tomorrow with a new runway, after being closed for construction since Nov. 20.

"The new runway is completed and everything is in good order," said Francis E. Torr, airport manager. "As far as I'm concerned, the airport will be open tomorrow."

Torr said officials from the Federal Aviation Agency were to inspect the airport this afternoon, but he sees no problem that would hold up the reopening of the airport tomorrow.

Silverware, Jewelry Taken By Burglars

Sheriff's deputies reported yesterday that someone took silverware, jewelry and cash, total value undetermined, from the apartment of Burton I. Capel, Shelter Bay Apartments, Apt. 330, Alto, Friday.

The burglary occurred sometime between 9:30 a.m. and 3:25 p.m., deputies reported.

The U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado was established in 1954.

Groundbreaking Set For Humane Center

The Humane Society of Marin will break ground for its new $460,000 humane education center next Saturday at 3 p.m. on Bel Marin Keys Boulevard in Ignacio.

Rep. Don Clausen, R-Calif., State Sen. John McCarthy and Assemblyman William Bagley, of San Rafael are expected to attend the ceremonies, along with Marin Government officials and representatives of animal welfare organizations.

The education center and animal shelter, on eight acres, will be one of the most advanced in the country in terms of an effort to show how to care for animals.

In addition to an aviary, quarters for dogs, puppies, cats, quarantine pens and a corral for old horses, the center will have an education room where horse lovers and other animals interest groups can hold their meetings.

Classes for school children will be conducted in a patio.

At a later date, the society plans to build a pavilion with an arena and bleachers to show dogs and horses and to conduct training classes. This will be used by horse and 4-H clubs, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, working for animal merit badges.

When all of the center is completed, it will cost about $750,000.

Patience Pays Off For Officer

PASADENA (AP) — Ray McCray, a Pasadena police officer, says patience paid off.

After failing to find a burglar reported in a department store recently, McCray parked his cruiser outside the store and waited.

Suddenly, he said, a man crashed through a display window from the inside.

The officer said he booked Royce Embry, 19, on suspicion of burglary after halting him with $1,217 worth of clothing.

Raiders Take Big Step Toward Division Title

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Daryle Lamonica switched from the bench at Buffalo to the driver's seat at Oakland and the Raiders today are all but in as the Western Division champions of the American Football League.

Notre Dame's Lamonica, acquired in a trade last winter, put them there by outshooting the San Diego Chargers 41-21 in the California showdown yesterday when he threw four scoring passes and set up the fifth touchdown.

THREE LEFT

With three games left in the regular schedule, the Raiders stand 10-1 with seven straight triumphs while the Chargers are 8-2-1 with each having three games left and no other team with a mathematical chance of taking the division crown.

San Diego Coach Sid Gillman apparently was ready to concede the overall title as he said, "Oakland is a great football team. They'll do a good job of representing the American Football League. They're not going to fall flat on their face because they have such a fine defensive team."

That defensive team surrendered 21 points to San Diego in the first half before marshaling that carried to the San Diego two, leaving Larry Todd only that much for a score.

"Yes, I think that pass to Cannon was the key," said Raider Coach Johnny Rauch. "It was third and one and we caught them off guard. Daryle called the play in the huddle."

Gillman agreed this was the big play, saying, "We kept saying, Pass play, pass play" and he went right by whoosh." Cannon goes along with the majority when he says, "We've got to take two of three and we're in. I don't see anybody else taking the Chargers."

INCLUDING JETS

This would include the New York Jets, tied for the Eastern Division lead with Houston. New York plays at Oakland on Dec. 17 and at San Diego Dec. 24.

Oakland plays at Houston on Sunday, with San Diego playing at Miami. The Raiders then have New York and Buffalo while San Diego faces Houston and New York.

Ben Davidson, the 265-pound Oakland defensive end looks well into the future as he says, "If everything works out, we'll get a chance to find out about Green Bay."

Getting back to the California showdown game, he admitted:

"The offense did a great job today. The San Diego offense definitely outplayed our defense in the first half. We didn't change anything in the second half. We just started doing the job."

FIRST HALF

In that first half, quarterback John Hadl had scored on a one-yard dive and thrown touchdown passes covering 57 yards and 29 to Lance Alworth and an impregnable front. But by halftime, Lamonica had engineered a 31-21 lead.

BIG PLAY

He had thrown 18 yards to Fred Biletnikoff, hit Billy Cannon on the game's key play covering 64 and Bill Miller from 29 yards out. Plus that, he had switched signals at the line when he saw San Diego blitzing

Raiders TV Game Beats Out 49ers' Kezar Show

YEA, RAIDERS!—Well, yesterday I made the big decision. Why buck the sloppy elements to watch second rate football at Kezar Stadium when a first-class performance was available free and in color in the comfort of my living room?

Zo, I betrayed my beloved 49ers and cheered the Oakland Raiders to their impressive victory over the hated San Diego Chargers. Judging by the attendance at Kezar (25,613), several other football fans preferred the television fare and we stay-at-homes were not disappointed.

The Raiders showed a lot of class and appear ready to provide the Bay Area with its very first professional football championship, something that has eluded the much older San Francisco 49er organization. By good management, the Raiders have done more in 7 seasons than the 49ers have done in 22 years.

Raiders Seem Class Of AFL

Beaten only once this season, the Raiders appear to be the class of the AFL. Their stiffest competition, the New York Jets, also were on video yesterday and looked sloppy in a 33-24 loss to lowly Denver. As the AFL championship game is to be played in the home of the Western Division titlist, only a miracle can prevent Oakland from hosting that game.

Eat your hearts out, 49ers.

Also, with such all-around strength, the Raiders appear capable of giving the NFL champs (Colts? Packers?) a better tussle in the Super Bowl than the Kansas City Chiefs put up against Green Bay in the last Super Duper. But that's counting our chickens before they hatch.

Of the three games on TV yesterday, the Raiders pulled the greatest play, a trick they may have learned from Green Bay. On a third and inches situation, quarterback Daryle Lamonica crossed up the "stacked" defense by throwing a bomb to Billy Cannon. The situation, which teams like the 49ers would solve with a one-yard line smash, exploded for 64 yards and a touchdown. Beautiful.

Young Brodie Gets His Chance

The Packers have burned the 49ers several times in the past with that very same play.

Meanwhile, I was glad to learn that 49er coach Jack Christiansen finally benched first string quarterback Steve Spurrier and gave young John Brodie a chance to show his ability.

That's the only smart thing to do. After all, the 49ers aren't going anywhere this season, so why not experiment with youngsters? Spurrier didn't show much in five whole quarters as first stringer, so why not give Brodie, the Stanford flash, a chance?

From eyewitness reports, Brodie showed considerable promise yesterday. Where Spurrier had completed only 2 of 4 passes for 14 yards, and 1 interception, "Kid" Brodie complete 10 of 27 aeriels for 166 yards and a touchdown.

He Also Shows Fancy Footwork

Brodie also showed plenty of poise and fancy footwork, according to eyewitnesses. He throws a sharp spiral pass with very little wobble. I'm told.

I think Coach Christiansen may have solved his old quarterback problems. Nice move, Chris. That Brodie looks like a comer.

Meanwhile, the fickle Kezar crowd had a ball yesterday. Chants of "We Want Spurrier" became "We Want Brodie" then "We Want Mira."

What next, "We Want Bev Wallace"? Maybe someone can entice Maury Duncan into making a comeback. Well, how about Jesse Freitas? Or Hal Ledyard? Lamar McHan? Arnie Galiffa? Earl Morrall? Bob Waters?

High Attendance Figures For Chiefs

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs, who failed in defense of their American Football League championship, drew 315,106 fans for seven home games, second highest figure in AFL history.

The Chiefs averaged 45,015 per game, 97.7 per cent of capacity.

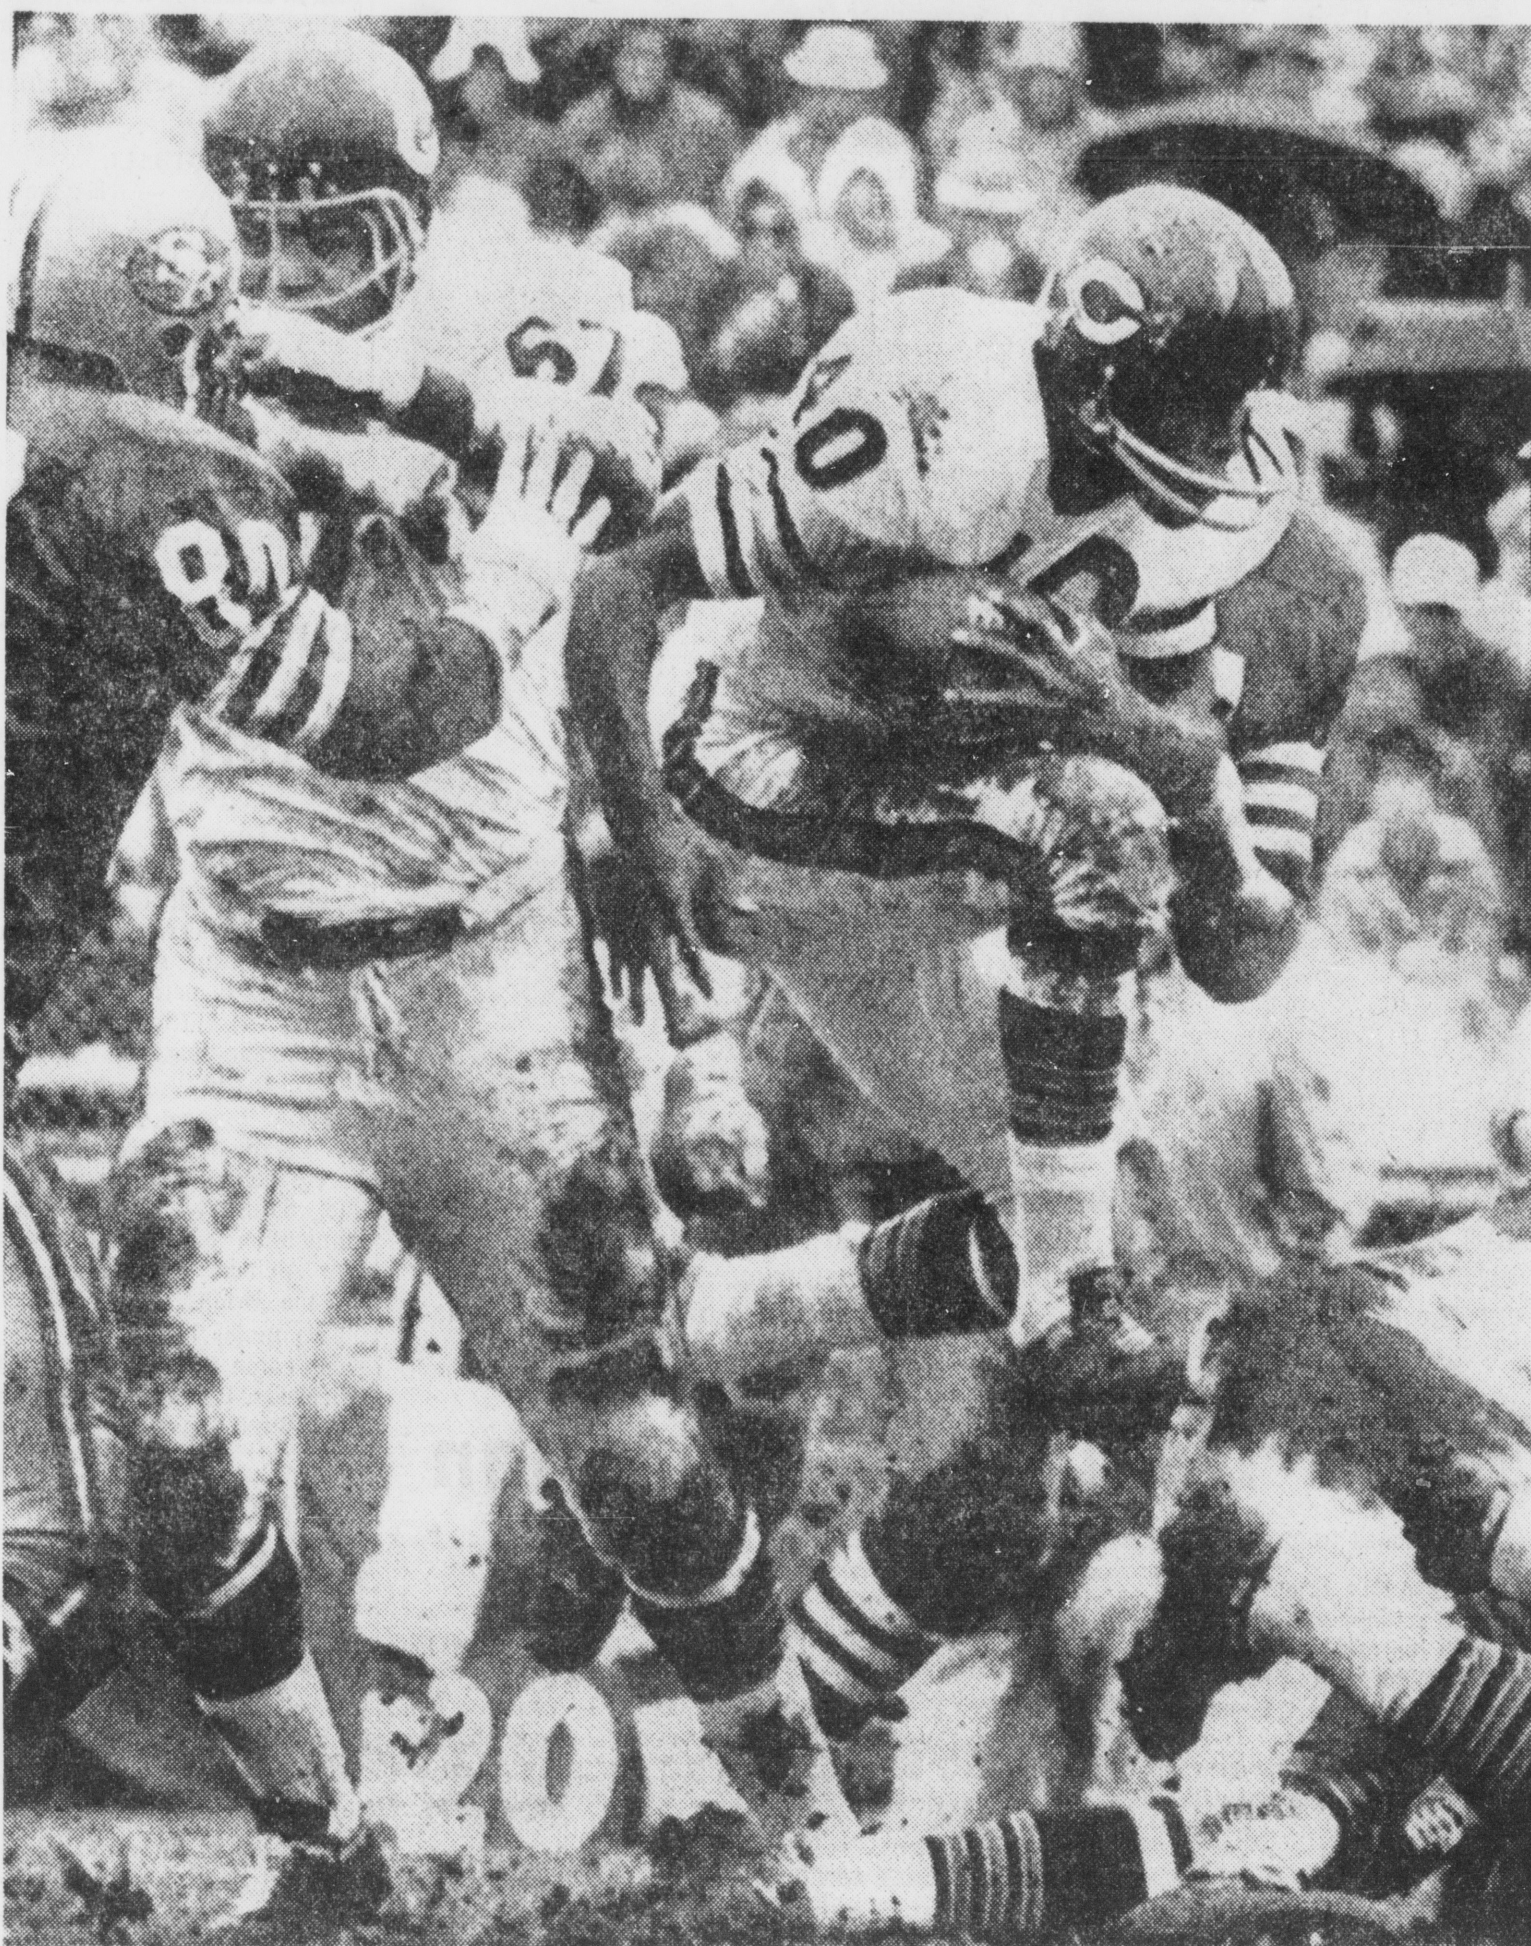

Novato Prep Wrestlers Win Tourney Title

Novato High School's wrestling team, paced by the Donaldson twins, swept to the team title in the Tennyson Invitational Wrestling Tournament in Oakland Saturday by piling up 81 points.

Tennyson was second with 68 points.

Ken Donaldson, raced to the 112-pound title with four straight victories by falls to take outstanding wrestler honors in the tournament.

Twin brother Kirt won the 103-pound title on four straight decisions and Corey Parfitt took the 154-pound title on three decisions and a fall, Jim Turner, at 120 pounds, Rod McCowan at 138 and Bruce Lamb at 145 were runnersup for Novato.

Wow! Sayers Is Too Much

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "It was a bad field, but it didn't stop some people," said San Francisco Coach Jack Christiansen after his 49ers bowed to the Chicago Bears yesterday 28-14.

Christiansen was referring to the Bears' Gale Sayers, one of the National Football League's premier ball-lugging artists.

He stunned 25,613 fans at Kezar Stadium by racing 97 yards to a touchdown with the opening kickoff. Later, he started to the right, then flashed left 15 yards into the end zone. Still later, he raced through the 49ers for 58 yards with a punt to his third score, all on a rain-slick field.

OUT OF BOUNDS

Christiansen told sportswriters, "After Sayers' kickoff return, all punts were supposed to be out of bounds."

Sayers took the one he returned 58 yards almost in the center of the field, where the turf was worn away after 40 football games this fall.

Chicago Coach George Halas called Sayers "a deluxe mudder."

The Bears awarded two game balls, to Ralph Kurek, blocking back, and Mike Reilly, linebacker, who do a lot of blocking for Sayers.

"You know if you make an extra little block for Gale, maybe he'll go all the way," Kurek commented. "Knowing he can break away at any time gives you extra confidence and desire. Give him half a block and he's gone."

"LOOKED DOWN"

Sayers and linebacker Dick Butkus both said "The 49ers looked a little down from the beginning of the game."

"It's tough; you lose confidence after losing five straight," added Butkus.

Asked if he noticed a difference after John Brodie relieved

Steve Spurrier at quarterback for the 49ers, Butkus said, "Brodie throws a lot quicker and is a lot tougher to get to on a blitz. You can get to Spurrier because he takes longer to release the ball."

"Brodie scared us with that long touchdown pass."

Christiansen broadly hinted that second stringer George Mira might get the starting quarterback call next Sunday at Atlanta.

Fleckman Wins First Time Out; Ron Cerrudo 11th

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — With "desire" and an old putter a friend gave him six years ago, young Marty Fleckman of Port Arthur, Tex., has rewritten the Professional Golfers Association tournament history.

The darkly intense Texan, sank three birdie putts in a row — the last a dramatic 30-footer on the first-hole of a sudden death playoff — and won the $35,000 Cajun Classic, 1967's final stop for the PGA national tour.

The 24-year-old ex-University of Houston player did something no other pro has ever done — that's win an official PGA event in his very first appearance on the play-for-pay circuit.

Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael, who was a fellow student of the PGA golf school with Fleckman last fall, finished with a 72-68-71-70—281, good enough for 11th-place and a check for $1,100.

Cerrudo, who downed Fleckman in the British Amateur last summer, finished six strokes behind the Texan. The $1,100 was Cerrudo's first earnings on the PGA tour. He failed to place in the Hawaiian Open earlier this month.

After Fleckman and Jack Montgomery, another young Texan, finished 72 holes—36 of them yesterday because of a heavy rain the preceding day—with identical 13-under par 27s, they began their playoff.

Both boomed good drives down the fairway of the 382-yard par 4 No. 1 hole, Montgomery's approach shot plopped in a sand trap to the right of the green. Fleckman's landed toward the front of the green, about 35 feet from the cup.

Fleckman, further from the pin than his opponent, stroked his putt toward the hole. Six inches from the pin, the rolling ball began breaking to the right and dropped in the cup.

"Actually, I didn't want to run at it. I just wanted to see how close I could get without making it," said young Fleckman, who recently graduated 17th in the PGA's approved player school—now a prerequisite for tour rookies.

'COIN' CHAMP HARTNELL WINS STATE TITLE

Harnell College, flip-of-the-coin winner over College of Marin, won the Small Junior College football title last Saturday, whipping Reedley College, 40-21, at Salinas High School Stadium.

The Tars could have been there too after a 29-29 tie with the Panthers last week. But a flip of the coin tossed them out of the finals.

Rocky Thompson, a big, fast bruising fullback scored 22 points on 3 touchdowns, including an 85-yard kickoff return, and 4 extra points for Salinas. Reedley quarterback Tom Hernandez, the all-time junior college passing leader with a 2,325-yard season passing total, chalked up 232 yards Saturday, including 79 on a TD pass.

Terra Linda Boys Triumph

Terra Linda's Junior Trojans were scheduled to arrive home today from Honolulu where they scored a 27-20 victory over the Mele Kaillimaka Rams Saturday in the Merry Christmas Bowl football game.

Terra Linda, champions of the Marin County Pop Warner Conference, for boys under 14 years of age, left for the big game last Thursday. The trip for the 48 players and 3 coaches was made possible by a fund-raising drive that netted in excess of $8,000.

More Tough Foes Await Tar Quint

College of Marin's basketball Tars, a little bloody but unbowed, take on their toughest competition of the young season this week after dropping their first two games by a total of 11 points.

The latest loss was a 51-48 squeaker to a ball-controlling Foothill College club in Kentfield Saturday night. Friday it was a 64-56 loss to San Mateo.

Marin managed to work itself into a 30-22 halftime lead, but Foothill shut off the Tars' fast break and held them to 18 points in the second half.

The contest was nail-bitingly close until Foothill scored its clinching bucket with 15 seconds left. Marin had time for one more shot, but missed.

Forward Tom Stetson led Marin with 14 markers, while Russ Smith had 9 and Chip Tyson 8. Foothill's pattern of offense was mostly a two-man show, as forward Jeff Frost had 21 points and Simon O'Hanlon 16.

After the narrow defeats of the weekend, Marin is in tough this weekend against Hamilton Air Force Base, which hasn't lost to a junior college team in two years, and Contra Costa, which was good enough to rout traditionally strong American River 88-68 Saturday night.

Despite the frustrating losses and the tough foes coming up, Tar coach Cal Riemcke isn't discouraged by the team's showing so far.

"We think we could have won both those ballgames," he said. "Our defense is coming along well, but the offense is pretty intricate and it'll take some time to get it running smoothly. Our younger players were a little tense, feeling under the gun a bit. They'll be looser now. The teams we've played are strong, but we have the consolation of knowing we won't face teams like this in our own conference. We think we'll learn from these games and have a good team."

Marin scoring: Chip Tyson, 4-0-8; Keith Kornell, 3-0-4; Tom Stetson, 6-2-14; Andre Horn, 3-1-7; Tom Herringer, 3-0-6; Russ Smith, 4-1-9. Totals: 22-48. Foothill scoring: Nordell, 1-2-4; Davis, 1-0-3; Frost, 6-3-21; Larson, 2-1-3; O'Hanlon, 4-3-16. Totals: 17-51.

Marin Skater Earns A Spot In Nationals

Eleven-year-old Julie McKinstry of 619 Cedarberry Lane, San Rafael has earned a trip to Philadelphia next month to compete in the National Figure Skating Championships.

The sixth grade student at Lucas Valley Elementary School qualified for the Nationals Saturday by placing second in novice ladies division in the Pacific Coast Championships at Portland, Ore.

Three top skaters in each division qualify for the Nationals. Terry Beckerman, 16, of Los Angeles won the Pacific Coast novice ladies and 18-year-old Julia Johnson, also of L.A., placed third behind Miss McKinstry, the youngest competitor at Portland.

AAU Reelects Its President

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Amateur Athletic Union has reelected David A. Matlin, a Los Angeles lawyer, to a second straight one-year term as president.

BIG BLAST BY ROOKIE — Marty blasts out of a 13th-hole sand trap enroute to a first-place finish in the Fleckman of Port Arthur, Tex., $35,000 Cajun Classic at Lafayette, La., yesterday, to become the first golfer to win in his initial pro tournament. (AP Wirephoto) putt on the 18th green for a birdie and a three-under-par 69 to go with his earlier rounds of 67-68-71 over the gently rolling 6,550-yard, Oakbourne Country Club course.

Minutes later, Montgomery, 26, a former TCU player, who was in the threesome following Fleckman's, missed an eight-footer for a birdie on 18.

The putt kept Montgomery, who wound up with a 64-72-71-68, from capturing the title and the first-place check of $5,000. Instead, Montgomery, who rejoined the tour last spring after six months in the Army, got $3,300 for the runner-up spot.

Laurie Hammer, a handsome 6-foot-5 Floridian, almost made it a three-way playoff. His nine-foot putt at 18 for a birdie and a 275 slid by the cup.

DRAMATIC

It was a dramatic down-to-the wire finish. Montgomery sank a 10-footer at 17 to pull one-stroke ahead of Fleckman, Hammer and young Jim Grant, also a graduate of the 1967 PGA approved player school. Fleckman had also canned a 10-footer at 17.

Grant and Hammer shared third-place money of $2,800 with 276s while Dick Crawford's 278 earned him $1,850.

Tennessee Lou Graham, who had a one-stroke lead at the completion of 54 holes earlier yesterday, tied for sixth with a 279 and won $1,550. Deadlocked with Graham was Jimmy Picard, a Lafayette native who holds a club job in Michigan but comes home each fall when the snow flies.

Fleckman was the amateur who startled the golfing world last summer by grabbing the third-round lead in the U.S.

Bruins Get A Scare From Purdue Quint

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Major West Coast Intercollegiate basketball teams moved into the second week of the pre-season tuneup schedule today after mixed performances, including a cliffhanger victory for defending national champion UCLA.

UCLA, favored to repeat for the Pacific-8 and NCAA titles, barely defeated surprising Purdue Saturday 73-71. Despite elimination of the dunk shot, Lew Alcindor scored 17 points for the Bruins.

Two major conference championships came through with divided results. University of the Pacific, West Coast Athletic Confederation titlist, ran to an easy 79-56 victory in a warmup with Hayward State.

All active Pacific-8 teams triumphed Saturday night, except Oregon and Oregon State. University of San Francisco trimmed OSU 63-52 while University of California-Santa Barbara pushed Oregon aside 79-76.

Powerful Washington State overwhelmed Gonzaga 95-66. USC tripped the Loyola Lions 68-60, the California Bears dumped Idaho 67-55 and Washington edged Miami of Florida 81-80.

California's win over the Vandals may have been costly. All-coast guard Rusty Critchfield suffered a shoulder separation and may be out a month.

Pacific-8 clubs take on some formidable nonconference rivals this week. Highlights include Stanford-San Francisco, California-St. Mary's, Portland State-Oregon, Southern California-Villanova, UCLA against Wichita State and Iowa State, Purdue-Washington, Nebraska - Washington State and Phillips 66-Oregon State.

Pepperdine of the WCAC gave notice of strong potentials with a 81-78 victory over the University of San Diego. Another WCAC entry — St. Mary's — bowed to Fresno State 81-62, while San Jose State disposed of Arizona State 78-75.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

One thing that youngsters, just taking up the great game of bowling, lack in general is patience. They want to get on with it, start bowling strikes and spares at once. Well, it doesn't work that way. Take your time, work on fundamentals, and you'll progress, kids. But it will take a little while.

Marin 'Cats, Redwood Suffer Cage Defeats

Marin Catholic is not off and running to a flying start this year.

As a matter of fact, the Wildcats haven't won a game yet which is a little different from last year, when they raced to six straight non-league wins.

The difference may be that they're playing heavyweights instead of morale-boosting lightweights.

The Wildcats got a 73-53 whipping at the hands of tall and talented St. Elizabeth's of Oakland at Kentfield Saturday, but it was a good lesson.

The Wildcats trailed by only 51-47 going into the final period, had a one-point lead in the third quarter after trailing by as much as 16 points in the first half before succumbing to a 22-6 final-period blitz.

This is a team that has already bombed Tournament of Champion titlist Fremont and whose weapons included a 6-6 center and a 6-5 guard.

Six-two forward Ches Borna topped the Wildcats with an 18-point effort and a 13-rebound night.

Meanwhile, Redwood found that a team with a name like Gilroy can still be tough.

The Giants wound up losing, 53-36, after a first-half deadlock, to a team that had ripped Santa Rosa the night before, in a vice-versa doubleheader.

Redwood, opening night winner over Reedley, got the same

Rams Facing Showdown

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Rams want it because they need it. The Green Bay Packers want it simply because they're the Green Bay Packers.

And the Baltimore Colts. Well, they won't have anything to do with it but they're sure interested.

"It" is victory in next Saturday's National Football League game between the Rams and Packers in Los Angeles.

"OURSELVES"

"I guess we'll have to do it ourselves now," Coach George Allen said yesterday after the Rams, 9-1-2, beat the Atlanta Falcons 20-3 to remain one game behind the unbeaten Baltimore Colts in the Coastal Division with two games remaining.

It's going to take some doing because the other team the Rams have to play yet is the Colts, 23-17 winner over Dallas yesterday, whose only other game is against the lowly New Orleans Saints next Sunday in Baltimore.

Green Bay, 9-2-1, already has clinched the Central Division title and doesn't need another regular-season victory.

But a remark by Coach Vince Lombardi followed yesterday's 30-27 victory over Minnesota clearly reveals the Packers' attitude toward any game.

"Winning is what counts."

ELSEWHERE

Elsewhere in the NFL yesterday, Cleveland topped the New York Giants 24-14. St. Louis beat New Orleans 31-20. Washington tied Philadelphia 35-35. Chicago downed San Francisco 28-14 and Pittsburgh upset Detroit 24-14.

Denver upset the New York Jets 33-24. Oakland trounced San Diego 41-21. Houston edged Miami 17-14 and Kansas City defeated Buffalo 23-13 in the American Football League. Boston drew a bye.

Roman Gabriel passed for two touchdowns. Bruce Gossett kicked two field goals and the defense did the rest for the Rams, who appeared to have their minds on the Colts-Dallas game.

LATE NEWS

"Somebody told us the score when Dallas was ahead, but nobody bothered to tell us who won the ball game," said Allen, who heard the news when he reached the dressing room.

The news was Lenny Moore bolted into the end zone from two yards out with 1 1/2 minutes remaining for the Baltimore victory.

Dallas led 17-10 with TDs on a Don Meredith pass and Dave knee in the season opener at Minneapolis and hasn't played since. He's playing out his option, which expires May 1.

Spurrier started his second straight game, but was replaced by Brodie in the second quarter.

In the third period Brodie and Dick Witcher combined on a 63-yard pass play for the 49ers' first touchdown.

In the final period, Gary Lewis scored to climax an 86-yard drive.

Of the possibility he will start against Atlanta, Mira said, "I'll give it my all. My knee? It feels strong. I can move on it pretty well. It has a sore spot, like a sprained ankle."

Edwards' pass interception and a Danny Villanueva field goal, when the Colts' Lou Michales set the stage for Moore's winning touchdown by booting three-pointers of 53 and 27 yards.

Despite the loss, Dallas, 8-4-0, clinched the Capitol Division championship because of the Philadelphia-Washington tie.

Cleveland, 8-4, stopped the Giants, 6-6, from tying for first place in the Century Division by building up a 17-0 lead and then breaking the back of a New York rally with Jim Houston's 79-yard TD jaunt with an intercepted pass in the fourth quarter.

SETS STAGE

St. Louis' victory kept the Cardinals, 6-5-1, 1 1/2 games behind the Browns and set the stage for their meeting next Sunday in St. Louis. Johnny Ro-blund ran 54 yards for one St.

Louis TD and Jim Hart passed for two more.

The Packers settled a score with Minnesota—the Vikings had upset Green Bay 10-7 earlier this season—but they had to wait until the final eight seconds to do it. That's when Don Chandler kicked the winning field goal—a 19-yarder. Bart Starr threw two TD passes for the Packers, who led 27-17 after three quarters.

Washington fell behind 35-14 and then roared back to tie on two of Sonny Jurgensen's four touchdown passes and Pete Larson's three-yard run. Jurgensen completed 30 of 50 passes for 366 yards, while Philadelphia's Norm Snead hit on 21 of 34 for 288 yards and four TDs.

Don Shy scored twice on one-yard runs and rookie Kent Nix hit J. D. Wilburn on a 67-yard scoring strike to gear Pittsburgh's upset of Detroit.

Too young to drive, but...

Every 60 seconds someone steals a car.

Who does the stealing? Teen-agers mostly. Many less than sixteen, 64% less than 18. Why do they steal? Joyrides chiefly. Dangerous joyrides when you know that stolen cars have 200 times more accidents than other cars. Who makes it easy for them? You do. 76% of stolen cars were left unlocked. Nearly half also had ignition keys in them. It's easy to say the teen-agers are irresponsible, but so are you.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Now Is the Time To Figure How Much To Contribute

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Now is the time to make your charitable contributions and to make them count the most.

The following table shows the actual cost to you for each dollar contributed to your favorite charity:

Taxable income	Your cost for a $100 contribution if you are
Not less than	But less than
$ 8,000	$ 10,000
10,000	12,000
14,000	16,000
20,000	22,000
32,000	36,000
44,000	50,000

You can deduct gifts up to 30 per cent of your adjusted gross income, but not more than 20 per cent on gifts to private foundations.

Excess contributions during the year are not lost. Individuals may excess of '30 per cent gifts' for the next 5 years.

A corporation's limit is 5 per cent of its taxable income before the charitable deduction. And excess can also be carried over for 5 years.

Contributions to any organization formed and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational purposes and Federal, state and local governments are deductible.

You cannot deduct donations to an individual or a foreign charity, with few exceptions.

If there is any doubt as to whether the contribution is deductible you should acquire a copy of U. S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service Publication No. 78, titled "Cumulative List Revised to December 31, 1967, Organizations Described in Section 1170 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954." This publication is available from the U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington D. C. 20402, for $3.50.

Your local Internal Revenue Service office should have a copy of this available to look up a questionable organization.

You can deduct the fair market value of the gift. If you have stock that has increased in value give that. Suppose you have stock which cost $5,000 and is now worth $10,000. You give the stock and you pay no tax on the $5,000 increase but you can deduct the full $10,000.

If business or income-producing property has decreased in value, sell it and deduct your loss, do not give it away. If you give things like books, clothes, furniture, etc. to a charity, their value is deductible.

If you give depreciated business property like office furniture, fixtures, equipment, machinery, automobile, buildings, etc., the charitable deduction may be reduced by the recapture of depreciation.

If you give property, you must attach a statement to your return showing what you gave, how it was valued, etc. Be sure to check the rules on reporting.

You probably never stopped to figure how much you spent on fund-raising and other services for the Internal Crusade, the church, Boy Scouts, civil defense, etc. You can't deduct the value of your time and services, but you can deduct the out-of-pocket expenses you paid while performing those services, such as the gas and oil if you used your car, meal and lodging while away from home overnight rendering volunteer services or attending meetings, and the cost of distinctive uniforms and accessories which are not suitable for general wear.

Figure your charitable auto expenses the easy way by claiming 5-cent-a-mile deduction for out-of-pocket operating costs while using your car for charity.

You can also claim parking fees and bridge tolls but not parking tickets or traffic fines.

The deduction is allowed only in the year paid. A gift in the form of your note or pledge is not deductible until paid.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Buyer Disappointed In Aerospace Issue

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am puzzled and disappointed by the action of Martin Marietta. I bought shares several months ago at 25 and it is below 20, even with the aerospace contracts. Should I sell at a loss or hold? We also own Southland Corp. of Dallas. What do you think of this stock? — J. L.

A. It is always an excellent idea, if I may say so, to know exactly what you're buying before you make your purchase. Martin Marietta is active in missiles and aerospace work, but its major profits come from cement and other building materials.

Increased costs and competition will probably lower earnings for 1967 and next year's results are unpredictable.

If you are buying stocks for gains, I think you are in the wrong situation.

Martin Marietta has not shown much price progress since the merger which formed the present company. I suggest a switch to United States Shoe Corp., which seems to be moving ahead under new and very able management.

I would certainly hold Dallas-based Southland, which has an excellent record of growth and price appreciation.

Q. I own Series E bonds issued from 1942 through 1953. Have all of these bonds been extended and are they still drawing interest? — M. H.

A. All Series E bonds of early issuance and currently being offered have been extended or guaranteed an extension. They have been accruing interest at the rate of 4.15 per cent since Dec. 1, 1965. You have a good deal of accruals accumulated on which you are building.

Remember always that federal income tax on accruals can be deferred until maturity or redemption and that you can always get back your principal and interest from the government without advance notice after two months of holding.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Engineering And Contracting Firm To Open In San Rafael

A new business is being established by San Rafael civil engineer Sheldon A. (Bud) Bowers, formerly with the California Division of Highways, bridge department, and recently with the County of Marin.

The company, Bowers Engineering Co., will specialize in heavy construction, handling both engineering and contracting. An office will be opened soon in San Rafael. Activities are headquartered temporarily at Bowers' home, 6 Lindenwood Court.

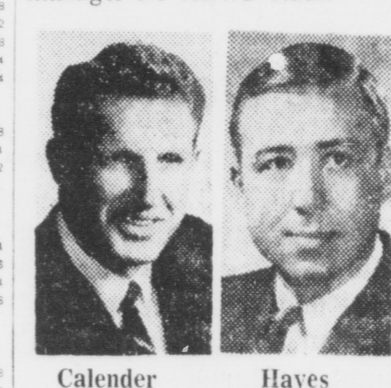

DON E. WOLTER, former San Francisco and Tahoe commercial photographer, has established his headquarters in Ross, where he now lives. His work is strictly commercial, with emphasis on scenic and recreation (such as ski sports) for brochures, magazines and industrial photography.

BEAUTY SHOPS. The former Lucy Proctor's Beauty Shop at 1501 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, has been reopened that the name shortened to Lucy's Beauty Shop. Reason: Another Lucy has taken over—Lucy Dunn of Fairfax. She has been a beautician over 25 years, with more than 10 years at Judy's Beauty Shop in Larkspur. Hours are now from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesdays through Saturdays.

Jolie Madame at 253 Third Street, San Rafael, is being expanded. Owners Andre Paris and Jacqueline Iwanowski have rented the vacant property next door and will double the present space. Staff has already been increased to 10 from two who opened last January.

Ethel Skinner at 11 Locust Avenue, Mill Valley, has replaced Linda K. Fashions at that address. Included is a district sales office of Studio Girl Hollywood Cosmetics. She will be training girls as beauty advisers for Marin, Sonoma, Napa and Lake counties.

RICHARD S. CALENDER of Belvedere has been appointed to the leasing sales department of Varner-Ward, San Francisco car leasing company. He formerly was in the broadcasting field for 15 years. For the past 16 years he was sales manager of KNBR Radio and before that sales manager for KEWB Radio.

Calender, Hayes

MEETINGS. Robert W. Hayes, of Sausalito, partner in the San Francisco architectural firm of Hayes and Smith, is a featured speaker in Chicago this week at the "Design Workshop" of the annual convention of the National Association of Home Builders. He is among 12 architects and planners from throughout the country to direct the sessions. . . . Jerry Cumbs, of Sausalito, package design director for International Paper Co., was speaker at the recent meeting of the Golden Gate chapter of the Society of Packaging and Handling Engineers in Alameda.

MRS. MARGE HADLEY of San Anselmo has left her post in the trust department at Bank of America's San Rafael office to become secretary for her husband, Norman, who has recently set up a public accounting office at 1405 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo. Replacing her at the bank is Mrs. Linda Dawson, Petaluma.

DAVID J. ATCHISON of San Anselmo has joined the Los Angeles office of Thomas Wick Associates — not the San Francisco office (there is none), as reported here two weeks ago. My mistake — I just couldn't believe he would be commuting this distance, but he is — now and then, that is.

GIFTIQUE, a new specialty shop in the Red Hill Shopping Center, San Anselmo, will open tomorrow on schedule.

This is a new venture of Geri and Barney Brodine of San Rafael. She is a professional flower arranger who lectures, demonstrates and custom designs dried and permanent arrangements. The shop will feature her florals, plus imported and domestic gifts items and accessories for the home and all age groups.

He is a recently retired Air Force officer and a professional organist and pianist. You may have heard him as Barney Blair.

Credibility Gap May Help Defeat Bond Issues

"Why did they tell us in the campaign that they would get rid of the portables, and now that the bonds have passed, they say they won't?"

"Why didn't they mention the three empty classrooms during the bond election campaign?"

"I voted 'no' and so did all my neighbors. You just can't believe what the school people tell you."

THESE COMMENTS — by three different people — suggest a possible contributing reason to the defeat of 10 out of 15 school bond issues this year in Marin County.

In agonized reappraisals after bond issue defeats, school officials and members of bond campaign committees have come up with the usual explanations:

People are weary of high taxes, and school bond and tax measures give them their only opportunity to express their revolt.

The two-thirds requirement for passage of bonds is unrealistic.

Too many people just don't care.

THESE REASONS are accurate enough. But another reason is never mentioned: the rather widespread distrust of the statements by school officials when they seek passage of finance measures.

This distrust is not wholly without foundation. Here are some examples:

MILL VALLEY — A $3.5 million bond issue to finance a middle school for 1,200 sixth, seventh and eighth graders and make improvements to neighborhood schools passed June 13, despite opposition of two board members who wanted to abandon the neighborhood schools.

On June 12, the day before the election, the Independent-Journal reported in a story based on information provided by school district officials: "The measure also would allow the district to replace most of the rented portable classrooms with permanent facilities."

Some time after the election, when it became evident the $3.5 million issue would not finance everything district officials had hoped, this newspaper inquired more specifically. Both Supt. James A. Collins and Asst. Supt. Leo B. Edson then confirmed that it was never planned to replace a majority of the portables. Most of them will stay.

SAUSALITO — A $1.4 million bond issue to help finance an "educational park" for 1,200 pupils failed to pass on Oct. 10.

When the plan was presented by architects May 13, cost was estimated at $3,405,013 "or $3,745,140 for a really first class" school. The money in addition to the bond issue was to come from other sources.

During a September public meeting on the plan, a resident asked why a school for 1,200 should cost $3.5 million in Sausalito and $2 million in Mill Valley (the cost of its middle school). Board president David E. Freedheim then disclosed that part of the reason was decision to keep classes at 22 or 23 pupils each—far below the average of about 28 per class in all Marin elementary schools.

TAMALPAIS HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT — A $12,315,000 bond issue to build two new high schools and expand present ones failed Oct. 10.

In July, in response to a question, a superintendent's assistant said $1,450,000 in district reserve funds was committed to other uses and could not be used to build immediately needed classrooms. Last month — after the bond defeat — Supt. Chester G. Carlisle said $1 million of this reserve could be used for classrooms.

SAN RAFAEL — Three bond issues — $3,100,000 for elementary schools, $2 million for additions and improvements at present high schools and purchase of a third high school site, and $5.5 million to build the third high school — failed on Oct. 24.

The campaign committee declared that five elementary classrooms were needed immediately.

After the election it was disclosed that three classrooms stood vacant at Gallinas School.

Here are some of the "facts" in the bond committee's brochure preceding the election and the figures for the same needs which were given the board of education AFTER the bond issues failed:

New classrooms at Short School: in bond proposal, $196,170; after, $171,170. Peacock Gap site purchase: in bond proposal, $175,000; after, $150,000. Glenwood Middle School site preparation: in bond proposal, $316,500; after, $210,000. Repair old San Rafael High School gymnasium: in bond proposal, $212,700; after, $140,000.

Various other projects tagged essential in the bond campaign were eliminated from the list of essentials after the bonds' defeat.

THERE IS A NATURAL tendency for school boards and administrators, when seeking a bond issue, to include many things that appear highly desirable and label them "necessities." There is a natural tendency for the campaigners to slightly exaggerate the benefits of the issue and the disastrous effects of its failure.

But voters cannot be entirely blamed if they don't believe it all. They've been "burned" before.

Lock The Doors

A number of years ago, when we first came to Marin, a friend told us, "When the rain starts coming in earnest, the people in this county just lock their basement doors for the winter." To hear this man tell it, there wasn't a dry basement in Marin.

A number of wet winters, five contractors, several tons of concrete and some gray hairs later, we are ready to admit he was right.

The dry, tree-clad hills absorb the winter rains like sponge, then when the sponge is full, the big run-offs begin.

If you have a basement and don't have to lock the doors each November, call yourself lucky.

There are those who say President Charles de Gaulle is a fraud. If so, he's a 14-karat one.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

400 Million People Really Frightening

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your editorial of Nov. 20 citing the U.S. population milestone of 200,000,000 people today and a predicted 400 million in 50 years as "not so frightening" ignores some of the crucial aspects which are frightening.

The fact that the U.S. is not yet as crowded as India or China, and that we don't yet lead as deprived a life, is one of the arguments to further family planning and birth control here as other countries are doing as fast as they can implement them.

Nearly everywhere abroad overpopulation is an economic and social burden and a public health hazard that Americans cannot comprehend unless they have witnessed them. It is just to prevent such problems that the Planned Parenthood Association has been asked to set up and advise on worldwide family planning program.

Seven new volunteers have recently come to the medical clinic of Planned Parenthood Association of Marin because of their convictions that the problem has to be met at home. One volunteer spent a year with the Peace Corps in South America and was so appalled at what the lack of birth control information and family planning does to the societies there that she is trying hard, as we all are, to see that it doesn't happen here — ever.

For Peace On Earth, Men Of Good Will

Editor, Independent-Journal:

America is not just a piece of the earth's land, a government and a flag; it is a society composed of individuals. Dependent upon what kind of persons the individuals are is precisely the kind of society we have; our "nation" always reflects the character, ideals and ambitions of the people. Therefore, the question is: "How good are the people?" Throughout nature we find this principle holds true.

America is what it is because Americans are what they are. To change America it would be necessary to change the nature of Americans. Better government requires that we, as individuals, become better citizens. To have a more moral America we, as individuals, would have to become more moral. All this is a prelude to the omnipresent reminder we get this time of the year of "Peace on earth to men of good will!" The emphasis here is on "peace on earth," whereas it seems to me that if we produce individuals dedicated to be "men of good will" it would follow that we would have "peace on earth." The effort and profound desire of our leaders to secure peace is to be commended and all of us pray for their success. But it occurs to me that they labor at the wrong end, from the top down. What I'm trying to say is that first comes the individual, then the family, then neighborhood, then the town, then the county, then the state, then the nation. Deductively stated — better states make better nations, better counties make better states, better towns make better counties, and better people make better towns.

In conclusion may I be so bold to suggest that we think in terms of "to men of good will comes peace on earth" for, unless we have men of good will in the true meaning of Christ's teachings how can there be any "Peace on Earth"?

Students Denied Voice On Dress

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The administrators and faculty of the San Rafael schools have formed a committee to look into a uniform, district-wide student dress code. After finding out that this was being done, we sought to form our own committee at San Rafael High that would work with the administrators. Hopefully, we thought, it would provide a student point of view, which we think relevant since the whole business of "dress standards" involves us. We were told by one San Rafael administrator to "wait awhile," yet we felt that perhaps we ought to meet and establish our own feelings on the subject.

A group of us did so, and submitted a statement to the committee. When it came time for a meeting, we requested of the chairman that we be able to take part in the meeting, or at least be able to listen. She repeatedly said that they were "not ready" to talk with students.

We question this vehemently. We do not see how an adult committee, even of educators, most of whom we know and respect, can possibly expect consideration of and co-operation with any decisions it reaches by the students, without at least listening to a student viewpoint. The chairman said that she would be willing to talk to students, but we ask, "When?" "And what about in the mean time?" With so many problems concerning a "generation gap" confronting our society, we believe a concerted group effort should be made to work out problems, such as dress standards in schools, that affect both youth and adults. We have had success working jointly before, in clearing up the litter problem at San Rafael, and it can be extended to deal with other problems. We are able to accept this responsibility — certainly as much a part of the learning process as any — and to deny it is unrealistic.

Hopes That Purpose Of FRC Not Dropped

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As a high school teacher I have had the privilege of working with a few thousand young people. I have discovered them to be perceptive about their world, sensitive beyond their years, and deeply concerned about their future. A small segment of this youthful population will occasionally exhibit extreme deviant behavior. It is not my task to be directly involved in their rehabilitation. Although on occasions as with other teachers I have spoken a soft word or exhibited faith enough in their presence to aid them in discovering their intrinsic worth, I know from my limited experience that young people who have a particularly difficult time in adhering to standards and values set for them by the adult world are in reality testing the merits of these values. Often with consequences to themselves that are far out of proportion to their behavior. When parents and teachers can no longer operate effectively to be instrumental in the rehabilitation of delinquent youth it falls upon the society at large to assume the responsibility.

To me the Family Rehabilitation Center was a significant indicator of the maturity of the community. Now, for reasons unclear, a judgement has been made by a group of elected officials to terminate the center's work. It is my hope that the institution they decide to put in its place will have as its goal the rehabilitation of the delinquent child. I would also urge that the plan of involving families of delinquent children in the process of rehabilitation be retained.

More than this I would hope that tolerance, born of maturity, equips those individuals who are in a decision making position to be more understanding of the complexities of the rehabilitative processes.

Britain In Financial Dunkirk —But It Is Not Yet Defeated

WASHINGTON — What we are witnessing in Britain today is a political and financial Dunkirk, nothing less.

At stake is not just the future of the British pound but the future of Britain.

There is no need and no place for tearful sentimentality about "there will always be an England" and it is my deep conviction that neither the British people nor the British government will let themselves go down the drain.

Dunkirk was a perilous crisis but the British refused to go where Hitler consigned them. They transformed imminent disaster into a pivot of the whole war and seized for themselves the time to do things to enable them, with their allies, to go forward — and to win.

The saving of the British army at Dunkirk was only a beginning. Much more had to be done. It was.

THE SAVING of the British pound, with the help of European and North American friends (with one malicious absentee, Gen. Charles de Gaulle) is only the beginning. Much more needs to be done to save Britain from economic suffocation.

The last best opportunity is now at hand for the British to do what is necessary and there is evidence that this opportunity is being taken — and just before it is too late.

The British are not making the mistake of dreaming about past glories and future prestige. They have put behind them what has gone forever more fully and more realistically than many of their friends in the U.S. and elsewhere. They are thinking about an honorable and useful and significant present role — economically and politically — in association with their European and Atlantic allies.

BUT EVEN THAT is not attainable unless Britain puts its economic house in order, frees its economy from the shackles of outdated and massive union leather-bedding, and achieves a level of productivity and efficiency so that British goods can compete in the world markets.

One hopes that the shock of the painful, delayed devaluation of the pound will enable and coerce the Wilson government to do the things it knows have to be done: hold wages in check, hold prices in check, and light some fires under the competitive spirit of British industry.

Britain simply can't live with the mounting trade deficit (350 million pounds last year) it has been experiencing. The devaluation gives it the time and should give it the impetus to carry through what no longer can be delayed.

All of these are the reasons that the stake is not the value of the pound, but the future value of Britain.

THE IMPETUS which will come to Britain from entering the European Common Market, with the opportunity to compete on the continent under equal terms, would be invaluable.

But de Gaulle has again given Britain a calculating and purposeful blackball. He says this while simultaneously delivering at his semi-annual press conference a fierce attack on the dollar — this after announcing that France had withdrawn only a few days ago from the International Gold Pool designed to cushion crisis-speculation.

It is unwise to assume that de Gaulle does not know what he is doing or mean what he is saying. From his attempt to destroy NATO to his willingness to destroy the European Common Market — if he can't bend it to his will — de Gaulle has never forgiven the Anglo-Saxons for defeating Hitler — without France.

But Britain has the skill and stamina and will surmount its present economic miasma. When it does, Europe will be rapping at its door.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Senator Proposes Way To Deny France Gold

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Legislation is being introduced in Congress to combat President de Gaulle's machinations to undermine the U.S. dollar.

Sponsored by Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., the bill would bar the sale of gold to France until it resumes payments on its huge World War I debt to the U.S.

France owes some $6.7 billion — on which it stopped paying in 1932.

Under Hartke's proposal, French attempts to further "raid" this country's steadily diminishing gold reserve would be countered with a blunt demand that the proffered dollars be applied to France's immense outstanding obligation. Refusal to do that would be met with an equally emphatic rejection of the claim for gold.

HARTKE ALSO favors prompt action in two other directions:

1. Eliminating the gold backing for the dollar — now amounting to around $10 billion of the remaining $12.9 billion U.S. gold reserve. This would require congressional approval. It is Hartke's contention the traditional "gold cover" is an outmoded shibboleth and wholly unnecessary.
2. Recalling the U.S. ambassador from Paris, and leaving the embassy in charge of a minor official. This could be easily done at this time, as Ambassador Charles Bohlen is in Washington for consultations. Having him remain here would be an open rebuke to De Gaulle and his anti-U.S. fulminating.

France also owes more than $350 million of $2.534 billion in World War II debts. Payments due on these obligations have been met regularly. In addition to these immense war loans and credits, the U.S. has given France more than $9.5 billion in economic and military aid in the past 20 years.

IT WAS THIS tremendous assistance that largely restored France's shattered industry and military strength.

As an influential member of the powerful Finance Committee, Senator Hartke is in a strategic position to press for early consideration of these measures.

no doubt he intends to do that. Citing De Gaulle's long record of divisive and disruptive hostility toward the NATO alliance in general and the U.S. in particular, Hartke holds the time is right to retaliate vigorously and decisively.

SEVENTEEN COUNTRIES owe the U.S. a total of more than $20.75 billion in World War I debts. Largest debtor is England with $9.5 billion. Others are Italy $2.3 billion; Belgium $700 million; Russia $675 million; Poland $555 million; Czechoslovakia $275 million; Roumania $120 million.

So far this year, the U.S. gold reserve has been reduced by $250 million. Last year the loss was $574 million. The current reserve total of $12.9 billion is the lowest in 30 years.

JUDGE-MAKER — Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas, longtime intimate of President Johnson, is in the process of plucking another juicy patronage plum.

Mrs. Patricia McGowan Wald, 1951 Yale Law School graduate, is slated for appointment to a District of Columbia judicial vacancy — thanks to the potent recommendation of Fortas.

Through his great influence with the President, the wealthy one-time corporation lawyer has had a key hand in a number of judicial selections.

Mrs. Wald worked for the Arnold, Fortas and Porter law firm in Washington from 1952 to 1954, when she left to be married.

Holiday Swap Should Actually Mean One More County Work Day

That holiday swap for county employees, making the day after Thanksgiving a holiday instead of Columbus Day, should be beneficial all around.

Employees don't lose anything. Until now, they had Oct. 12 (Columbus Day) off, and worked on the day after Thanksgiving. From next year, they work on Oct. 12 and take off the day after Thanksgiving. On paper, it's an even trade.

But as a practical matter, both employees and the county stand to gain from the swap: employees, because they get a four-day holiday beginning on Thursday, Thanksgiving day; the county, because the day after Thanksgiving, while officially a work day, has never been too productive in the number of actual man-hours exerted.

From the poor work attendance on the day after Thanksgiving, it is apparent that many employees made advance plans either to be sick or absent that day.

From now on, it's an official holiday, so you can take your four days vacation with a clear conscience instead of hiding behind lame excuses like illness in the family or Grandma's funeral.

DENNY'S RESTAURANT apparently wasn't bluffing when it issued its "no big sign, no restaurant" edict. Because a large sign to their liking was turned down, Denny's representatives have withdrawn their restaurant plans in Ignacio.

But they haven't given up on the county altogether. Denny's is reported interested in a site in Novato.

THERE WAS A movement afoot in Marin to try to save the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed Imperial Hotel in Tokyo from demolition. But the "save the hotel" campaign may be too little and too late. Razing was scheduled to begin the first of this month. So it's sayonara to another Tokyo landmark.

THE FAIR/MARIN board of directors is off to a shaky start. Trouble seems to be that there are too many organizations pulling in too many different directions. Close to a hundred organizations are members of Fair/Marin Inc. They range from A (American Red Cross) to Z (Zonta Club). The wide diversity of interests is further complicated by the fact that jealousies and dissensions exist even within a single organization.

For example, the Marin County Chamber of Commerce is one of the 100 organizations. Gary Bauer of San Rafael junior chamber is on the Fair/Marin board. You'd think he'd be the logical spokesman for the various chambers of commerce in the county. But right from the outset, we get word from the Novato Jaycees that a "misunderstanding" has developed, and "Mr. Bauer is not representing our organization on the Fair-Marin board."

This is just one example of internecine warfare within one of the 100 categories represented. Multiply such dissension a hundred fold, and you get some idea of what Fair/Marin is up against.

Japan's Kamikaze Spirit Lives In Fearless Tokyo Motorists

There seems to be general agreement among all world travelers that there is nothing on earth to compare with the Tokyo traffic or the Japanese driver.

The traditional samurai-kamikaze spirit which has been passed on from father to son now manifests itself on the streets of the world's largest city. The most noble act that a licensed Japanese driver can perform is to crash his car into flames at an intersection, taking as many other cars with him as he possibly can.

The Japanese practice a form of vehicular karate which is not only a sport but a form of self-defense. It is known as "the way" and it is believed the true meaning of life can be found only after a person has experienced a traffic pile-up in the rain on the Ginza at 6 o'clock in the evening.

A QUALIFIED karate driver must show courage, determination and spirit. His mind must be cleared of all thoughts and he must be prepared at all times, not only to defend his own car, but to attack another car when the opportunity presents itself. He also must master "the absence of preconceived thoughts." Each traffic situation must be treated as a brand new one requiring a self-confidence that can only come from long hours of meditation during the endless Tokyo traffic jams.

In order to qualify for a black safety belt, the driver must learn to thrust, strike, block, heel and twist his car, striking out at his opponent without worrying about the danger to his own safety or the consequences to those within a two-block radius of the traffic light.

A good karate driver must remain relaxed, the ball of his right foot firmly on the accelerator, the left foot near the brake. When he sees an opening he makes a thrust toward it, screaming "kiai!" This not only frightens the opponent in the other car, but also gives the driver the needed courage to go on.

AT THE MOMENT the driver makes his thrust, his opponent might try to cut him off with a "uke-waza," or blocking technique. By braking fast, the driver uses the weight of his opponent's car against him, and with luck the other fellow will crash into a department-store window.

If the opponent manages to keep his car on the street, the karate driver must throw a "kake-uke" (inside hooking block) which can, with luck, make the opponent swerve into another oncoming car.

In order to keep their bumpers firm, most karate drivers practice on Tokyo pedestrians. A Japanese car in good condition can split three pedestrians in half with one blow. During my stay I was introduced to a 10-black belt taxi driver who claimed he could split six pedestrians without hurting his cab.

THE IMPORTANCE of karate-driving to the Japanese cannot be underestimated. Not only does it build the spirit and soothe the mind, but it is great for muscle toning, low blood pressure and hardening the body.

It is Japan's greatest weapon against the population explosion, and many Japanese I spoke to say they prefer it to the pill.

A Bounty On Rats Will Be Sought

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Portland's acting mayor, City Commissioner Francis Ivancie, says he will ask the City Council to establish a bounty on rats.

Ivancie said that when he was a boy in Minnesota, there was a bounty of "10-cents a tail" for rats.

Ship Plunges Into Bridge

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — A coal-laden merchant ship slipped anchor in high seas late last night and slammed into the Chesapeake Bay bridge-tunnel, causing extensive damage to a portion of the 17-mile-long structure.

The Coast Guard said the 497-foot converted Liberty Ship Mohawk rammed the west side of the bridge-tunnel about three miles offshore and then bumped along the structure until it came to a stop about one-half mile from shore.

The ship was unmanned at the time of the collision, the Coast Guard said, and no injuries were reported.
